GERMANS STORM
A HILL BEFORE
BREST-LITOVSK

Mackensen's Forces Make Further Progress in Attack on Russian Stronghold Which Is Expected Soon to Be Evacuated.

Teutons Advance on Other Fronts in the East, Capturing 8100 Prisoners and 17 Machine Guns.

German Submarine Sinks a Russian Auxiliary Vessel at the Entrance to the Gulf of Finland.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, via London, Aug. 24.—A hill at Kopytov, to the southwest of the Russian fortress of Brest-Litovsk, has been stormed by the Teutonic forces, according to an official statement given out today by the army headquarters.

The statement from headquarters says: "Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg: On the remainder of the front of this army group progress was made. During battles to the east and to the south of Kovno our troops captured nine officers and 3800 men and took eight machine guns.

Bavarian Army Captures 4500. "Army group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: On the plain situated to the northeast of Kleszczewo and in the forest district southeast of this place the enemy yesterday again was defeated by our troops, the pursuit reaching the Bialowieska forest. The enemy lost more than 4500 men in prisoners and nine machine guns.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: Before the attack of the German and Austro-Hungarian troops advancing across the Pulva and Bug rivers to the east of the mouth of the Pulva, the enemy evacuated his positions. Our pursuit continued. On the southwestern front of Brest-Litovsk a hill at Kopytov was taken by storm. Our troops are advancing through the marshy district to the northeast of Vladova, pursuing the enemy, whom they defeated yesterday.

"In the western theater: During yesterday's visit to Zebrugg (Belgium), the British fleet fired from forty to seventy shots at our coastal fortifications. We have to deplore, on account of this bombardment, the loss of one killed and six wounded. In addition, three Belgian inhabitants were wounded by stray shells. There was no material damage.

Part of German Trench Taken. "In the Vosges Mountains, north of Muenster, fighting was suspended throughout the day, but the French again attacked our position on Barrenkopf and to the north of that place in the evening. The attacks were repulsed and weak detachments of the enemy penetrated our positions were driven out again. A few mountain chasurs were taken prisoner. During the battle which we reported yesterday a section of the trench on Barrenkopf remained in the hands of the enemy.

"At Loos, southwest of Dixmude, a French biplane was shot down by one of our battle aviators."

Germans at Entrance to Gulf of Finland.

BERLIN, Aug. 24, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The German navy today announced that a German submarine had torpedoed and sunk a Russian auxiliary ship at the entrance to the Gulf of Finland.

Russians Preparing for Evacuation of Brest-Litovsk. "The German center has pressed forward steadily until Prince Leopold of Bavaria is near the Russian new line of defense, but the military observers say the entire campaign hinges on the vast enveloping movement of Field Marshal von Hindenburg's forces in the north. They had succeeded in pushing far beyond Riga, to Jacobstadt on the Drina, but the Russians hold on the Gulf of Riga and the great naval base of Riga was a continual menace, in von Hindenburg's rear.

Ships Tried to Aid St. Petersburg. "The military observers say, led to the shifting of a number of German capital ships, including the Moltke, from the North Sea to the Baltic, with the purpose of controlling Riga and thus protecting a German land advance on Petrograd. The result of the naval battle, as gleaned from the official Russian report, appears definitely to have defeated the German objective, according to the observers, who say that

QUITS DOING BUSINESS WITH
ATLANTA OVER FRANK LYNNING

Boston Firm Refuses to Sell More Supplies to City Until "Murderers" Are Punished.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—A Boston firm which for the last two years has been supplying the city of Atlanta with caulking and tools, has refused to have further dealings with the municipal authorities until action is taken in connection with the lynching of Leo M. Frank, according to W. E. Chambers, city purchasing agent. Chambers today made public the following letter received from the concern:

"Answering your letter of the 17th, we do not care to quote prices on caulking and we do not wish to solicit further any of the business of the city of Atlanta until the State of Georgia has taken official action looking to the apprehension and punishment of those men who murdered Leo M. Frank."

Exhibition of moving pictures of the body of Leo M. Frank, as it swung from the limb of a tree near Marietta, Aug. 17, were stopped here yesterday by the police.

TAFT 'NOT IN' TO SUFFRAGISTS

He Refuses to See Delegation at Hotel in Portland, Ore.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24.—Former President Taft declined to receive a party of Congressional Union suffragists at his hotel here yesterday.

Mrs. Lee Davenport of this city led the delegation, which was composed of about a dozen women. At the hotel Mrs. Davenport sent word to Taft that the women desired to lay their propaganda before him. Taft sent back an answer written in his own hand, saying that he had no time to receive a delegation of engagements for the day was full, and that he could not possibly receive them.

Mrs. Davenport sent up an insistent reply, but Taft stood firm.

PEOPLE BUYING JEWELRY AGAIN

Head of Retailers Cites This as Evidence of Returning Prosperity.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The fact that people are again buying jewelry was cited by T. L. Combs of Omaha, Neb., president of the American National Retail Jewelers' Association, in the opening session of its convention, as evidence that prosperity is returning. The convention will remain in session until Saturday.

"The jewelry business is a good barometer," said President Combs. "People are buying jewelry, and there seems to be no tendency to hoard money. In the jewelry business the palmy war times are no more."

JAMES CAMPBELL'S
SISTER WITHDRAWS
FROM WILL CASE

Mrs. Rosa V. Curtis Files Motion and Revokes Power of Attorney Given to L. F. Ottoby.

PAYS COSTS OF $791
Motion for Appeal From Ruling Against New Trial Must Be Filed by Oct. 2

Mrs. Rosa V. Curtis of 2641 Nebraska avenue, sister of the late James Campbell, and one of the plaintiffs in the recent suit to break the multi-millionaire's will, today filed a motion in the Circuit Court by which she withdrew from the case and revoked the power of attorney which she had given to L. F. Ottoby, attorney for the contestants.

Mrs. Curtis deposited, with the cashier of the Circuit Clerk's office, her check for $791, and stated that this covered the total bill for costs in the case. Hereafter, she stated in the motion, no one is authorized by her to take any appeal from the recent decision of a jury in Judge Kinsey's court. This jury, May 6, declared Lois Campbell Burkham to be the daughter of James Campbell, and upheld the will in favor of Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Burkham and Mrs. Burkham's heirs, and, ultimately, St. Louis University.

Have Till Oct. 2 to Appeal.
Judge Kinsey, soon after the trial, refused an application for a new trial. No appeal has thus far been filed. Under the law, an appeal can be taken until Oct. 2, when the present term of court ends.

Six of Campbell's nephews and nieces, living in Cincinnati, were the other plaintiffs in the will contest, which had the legal title of "Margaret C. Harrison and others against Mrs. Florence A. Campbell and others."

Mrs. Curtis particularly asks that her name be withdrawn from Ottoby's motion for a retrial of the case in the Campbell case, which was assessed against the plaintiffs. This motion was filed last Saturday. In this motion Ottoby objects to the payment of witness fees to seven witnesses who were summoned, but not called to testify, and for two other witnesses who he says were properly summoned only for the February term, and not for the April term of court. He also objects to expenses for depositions of James D. Mortimer, William Nelson Cromwell and others whose depositions were taken, but not used as evidence.

Why She Withdrew.
When seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter at her home today, Mrs. Curtis was sitting on the front porch, holding in her hand the bill for the court costs in the Campbell case.

"The other plaintiffs all lived out of town," she said, "and they brought the whole bill to the widow. I did not care to be liable for further costs in the case."

Mrs. Curtis said she had not been influenced in any way by James Campbell's widow, or other defendants. Her only reason for withdrawing, she said, was that she did not care to pay additional costs.

L. Frank Ottoby, counsel for the plaintiffs in the Campbell will contest case, refused to discuss Mrs. Curtis' withdrawal.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—H. W. Zimmerman, American Vice Consul at Rostov, Russia, returned to the United States today on the steamer Hellig Olav. He has been in Russia nine years. He said there were many well informed persons in Petrograd who feared a revolt more than the advance of the Germans.

STRYCHNINE TABLETS KILL BABY
Bertha Michelson, 14 months old, of 2613 South Broadway, died suddenly at 10 o'clock this morning, after eating socalled tablets containing strychnine, which she mistook for candy.

The baby ate about 20 of the tablets and was helping itself to another when its mother awoke. Mrs. Michelson summoned a physician, but the child died before he arrived.

'PARTIES UNKNOWN'
HANGED LEO FRANK,
CORONER'S VERDICT

Jury Obtains No Clue as to Identity of Anyone Involved in Lynching.

DELIBERATED 3 MINUTES
Conclusion Reached Quickly After Examining Persons on Scene After the Death.

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—Without being able to elicit from any one of 11 witnesses a single clue as to the identity of anyone connected with the lynching of Leo M. Frank near this city a week ago this morning, a Coroner's jury today returned a verdict that Frank came to his death by hanging at the hands of parties unknown. City and county officials testified that they had endeavored diligently to get at the facts of the lynching, but so far their efforts had been of no avail. The jury was out only three minutes.

"Of course you know these things are kept pretty close and are hard to find out," said Mayor E. P. Dobbs of Marietta. Deputy Sheriff Hicks and City Marshal Looney stated that they were working hard on the case, but at this time could throw no light on the identity of the men who participated in the lynching.

The nearest disclosure as to what happened in the oak grove near the Frey cotton gin came from J. A. Benson, a Marietta merchant, who drove by the place soon after the lynching party had parked its automobiles by the roadside and had led Frank to the tree where death awaited him. Benson said he had a "pretty good suspicion" as to what was going on, but he did not stop to see it and he did not recognize anybody in the party.

Text of Jury's Verdict.
The text of the jury's verdict was as follows:

State of Georgia, Cobb County.
In accordance with the inquisition taken this 17th day of August, 1915, and completed this 24th day of August, 1915, before John A. Booth, Coroner of said County, upon the body of Leo M. Frank, who was hanged by the neck until dead in a cluster of woods about two miles east of Marietta, in said county, and near what is known as W. J. Frey's gin on the Roswell public road, upon the oath of Dr. W. H. Perkins, J. N. Cantt, J. A. G. Heard, B. V. Greer, J. F. Shaw and G. A. Griffin, sworn according to law as jurors, and charged by John A. Booth to inquire when and how and in what manner the said Leo M. Frank came to death; that the said jurors aforesaid make and return the following presentments in reference to the aforesaid matters and things concerning which we were sworn to inquire by the said John A. Booth, Coroner.

We, the jurors aforesaid, upon our oath say that Leo M. Frank did on the 17th day of August, 1915, in said county, come to his death by being hanged by the neck until dead, by unknown parties.

Goos to Grand Jury Sept. 1.
Mrs. G. W. Ayers, who lives near the Frey gin, said she saw nothing unusual the morning of the lynching.

"Were you told by anybody not to stay about the front of the house that morning?" "No, sir, there has been a report like that, but it wasn't true."

J. A. Benson, a Marietta merchant, known as "Gus" Benson, was the next witness. He drove in from the country soon after the lynching party passed the Frey place.

"Driving on into town, I saw three or four cars parked near the Frey gin," said Mr. Benson.

"What did you see?" "I saw one man step out of one of the cars."

"Did you recognize him?" "No, sir," he said emphatically.

"Did you recognize anybody in any of the cars?" "No, sir, I was going pretty fast."

"Well, where did you get the idea that Frank had been hanged there at the gin?" "From the cars there and what I heard when I passed the Frey place."

"It was a guess, then?" "Well, sir, when I came by the Frey place, Bill called to me that he thought there was something doing. I had seen in the morning paper what had happened at the prison farm. So it all excited my suspicion."

"Did you see again or recognize any of the machines you passed at the gin?" "No, sir."

City Marshal Testifies.
P. H. Looney, City Marshal of Marietta, said he knew nothing of the lynching until after the body was discovered.

"I am bending your best efforts to discover who took part in this transaction," suggested Dorsey. "Yes, sir."

"Well, is there any light you can throw on the situation at this time?" "No, sir, this transaction was really outside the city limits, but we are co-operating with the county officials."

"Did you see anything unusual Monday night to indicate that the people who did this thing came from Marietta?" "No, sir, I saw nothing unusual or suspicious last Monday night, although I was up until 2 a. m."

Mayor Testifies.
Mayor E. P. Dobbs of Marietta, a State Senator, said that when he first

Czar of Bulgaria and Railway
That May Keep Him Neutral

CZAR FERDINAND.

THE map shows the route of the Nish-Sofia-Adrianople railroad which from the Bulgarian frontier, near Adrianople, traverses Turkish territory. A statement given out by the Overseas News Agency (an official organization) in Berlin, Monday announced that Turkey had just concluded a treaty with Bulgaria under which she had ceded to the Balkan kingdom all her rights in the railroad and its right of way in return for which Bulgaria had agreed to maintain a benevolent neutrality.

Bulgaria's ambition has been to have full control of a railroad to the sea and this treaty, if it has really been signed, enables her to realize this dream.

BOMB THROWN INTO
BASEMENT BLOWS
FAMILY FROM BEDS

Saloon Man's Home and Place of Business Damaged; Suspect Arrested.

A bomb, thrown at 3:30 o'clock this morning into the basement of the two-story brick house at 5181 Daggett avenue, occupied by Joseph Ariotto as a saloon and dwelling, damaged the building and threw the members of the family out of their beds.

Ariotto and his wife and three children were sleeping in the front room of the second floor. The bomb exploded in a basement area. Doors were smashed and windows shattered and plastering dislodged. Ariotto took his family to safety and returned to look after Patrick Carley, an aged invalid, who occupied the middle room on the second floor. As the house did not catch fire, he was not carried out.

Santo Carolina, 36 years old, a watch maker, was arrested at his home, 5217 Bischoff avenue, on suspicion. Carley formerly made his home with Carolina six months ago he went to the city hospital. He had $500 which he had received from the sale of some property. Eight weeks ago he sent for Ariotto and made arrangements to be cared for at Ariotto's home.

A month ago, according to Mrs. Ariotto, her husband compelled Carolina to pay Carley $17.50 rent. The following week Carolina complained to the police that Ariotto had stolen his trunk and had him arrested. Later Carolina found his trunk. Three weeks ago Ariotto and Carolina fought in front of Ariotto's saloon.

Higher Express Rates Are Asked For

GOV. MAJOR HAS A HARD JOB
IN PROSPECT FOR MODEST MAN

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 24.—Gov. Major has a far-away expression in his eyes these days. He expects to be asked by the management of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco to name Missouri's greatest man. The Missouriian named by the Governor will have a niche in the exposition's hall of fame.

Those who have observed the Governor's long-distance contemplation are wondering whether his native modesty will prevent him from naming his personal choice for the honor or whether he is trying to see Joseph W. Folk, who is far away in Washington, D. C., holding down a job as Counselor for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"CONTRARY TO GERMAN

AMERICANS WERE LOST"

Asks Washington to Wait for Facts From Berlin.

"NO DESIRE FLAGRANTLY TO SINK PEACEFUL SHIPS"

Berlin Press Bitter on Subject of "Inalienable Rights" of Americans at Sea—German
Navy Has as Yet Received No
Report on the Arabic

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Germany, through her Ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, today asked the United States not to take a final stand on the sinking of the White Star liner Arabic until all the facts were known. It was the first word from Germany since the disaster. Count von Bernstorff telegraphed the State Department today, saying he made the request at the instructions of his Government and added that the German Admiralty had not yet been able to get a report on the sinking.

Count von Bernstorff in his telegram said that if any Americans had been killed "it was contrary to the intention of the German Government," and that it was not the intention of the German Government to sink any peaceful merchant ships in a flagrant manner.

Count Bernstorff telegraphed from the summer Embassy at Cedarhurst, Long Island.

In view of the Ambassador's request the State Department can do nothing but wait for word from Berlin. Ambassador Gerard has been instructed to watch for a report, but has not been told to ask for one.

Meanwhile, the State Department is gathering evidence from all other sources to supplement what it already has, but considers too fragmentary to be of full value. The latest development in the situation delays any forward move for a few days longer.

GERMAN NAVY
HAS NO REPORT
ON THE ARABIC

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—The Overseas News Agency says:

"In naval circles it is stated that no official report has yet arrived concerning the sinking of the steamship Arabic until the German Government had received a report of the sinking of the White Star boat from submarine commander, and that, if it developed the Arabic was destroyed in the manner and under the circumstances claimed by the Government of Great Britain, the act of the submarine commander was against the intent of the German Government."

Count von Bernstorff immediately transmitted this dispatch to Secretary Lansing at Washington.

The Evening World is informed on highest authority that two things can be safely assumed:

Germany has not changed its policy and desires to avoid sinking American ships or sacrificing American lives. If the Arabic was torpedoed without warning and no opportunity given for innocent noncombatants to escape, then the action was not in keeping with the intention of the policy of the Berlin Government.

marines destroyed the Arabic and that American citizens thereby were accidentally drowned, this is a fresh justification of German warnings to foreigners not to enter the war zone on board British ships, and of Germany's advice that they use neutral ships instead.

"It is extremely regrettable," the Tages Zeitung adds, "that the United States has entirely disregarded Germany's warnings and tried by threats to cause Germany to give up submarine warfare, which is an impossibility. This doubtless is the unanimous sentiment of the German nation."

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 24.—No further details concerning the sinking of the Arabic have been published here, and the Berlin newspapers refrain from commenting upon the situation from that event.

The newspapers publish what purport to be a brief dispatch to the Los Angeles Telegram, quoting Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary, as saying that Americans are uniformly with the President, and will, if necessary, offer their lives to maintain the inalienable rights of Americans on land and sea.

The Kreuz Zeitung says: "These inalienable rights, as is known, consist of using British passenger steamers." Several papers publish the Arabic's manifest on a trip from New York to London, beginning July 25, as contained in a report of the German-American Chamber of Commerce of New York. This report says that the Arabic, which was painted like a battleship, had 13 American guards aboard.

The Lokal Anzeiger says that this report shows that the Arabic was equipped for battle, and therefore not to be considered a harmless merchantman.

HAYS' MARITAL TROUBLES GET ANOTHER AIRING

Jeppha D. Howe and Arthur V. Lashly Have Frequent Tilts in Clayton Court.

DISPUTE OVER ABILITY

Contest for Possession of House Taken Under Advice After Lawyers' Exchanges.

The celebrated Hays case, in which the principals are W. Tom Hays, superintendent of a big steel plant, and his wife, Mrs. Nella Hays, which has rudely shocked the dignity of Webster Groves during the last three months, had another lively setting in Justice Matthews' court at Clayton yesterday afternoon.

The cause to be determined by the Justice was whether Hays had a legal right to put Mrs. Hays out of his residence at 624 Clark avenue, Webster Groves, which she has held by strategy since he stripped it of all its furniture several weeks ago.

But it appeared to spectators, who heard the testimony and the arguments, that the real question before the Court was whether Jeppha D. Howe, who represented Mrs. Hays, and Arthur V. Lashly, who represented Hays, had any legal ability whatever. Howe cast so many aspersions on Lashly's ability as a lawyer, and Lashly countered with so many blows at the legal standing of the former Republican boss of St. Louis that if the two lawyers were to be judged upon the estimate of the legal ability of each other, their clients would soon be proceeding against them for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Vagrancy Case Continued. Howe was employed by Mrs. Hays to prosecute Hays on a charge of vagrancy, and Howe was in Justice Matthews' court early this morning to proceed with the case, but it was continued for a week. Hays gets a salary of $500 a month, but he is charged with vagrancy because he refused to support his wife.

as the trial of the unlawful detainer case, Hays testified that Mrs. Hays had held possession of the house since June 15, and refused to get out. The house was worth $50 a month rent, he said, and he was losing that amount of money by her refusal to vacate. Mrs. Hays borrowed some chairs, beds and other furniture after Hays had all his own furniture removed.

Howe called into Hays vigorously on cross-examination, and also into Lashly. Hays testified that he offered his wife $50 at one time, and $100 at another time to vacate. Howe insisted that there had been strings on all the offers, and that Hays had given her no money whatever for her part of the property. "He said the money only on condition that she vacate the premises."

Mrs. Hays testified as to the conditions under which she was living in the house. There was not very much to the testimony of either of the principals in the case, but when Lashly suggested that the case be submitted to the Justice on briefs, after the testimony, Howe challenged him to find anywhere in the thousands of volumes of law reports a case similar to the Hays case. He asserted that Hays could not sell the place unless Mrs. Hays would sign the deed, thereby releasing her dower rights, and that as long as she had a dower interest in the place she could not be put out by the husband.

Howe keeps flinching. Howe's index finger on the right hand had a very busy afternoon, and he shook it menacingly in Lashly's face a score of times. He pounded the table in the courtroom so vigorously with his fist that Justice Matthews appeared to be alarmed over the safety of his furnishings.

After Howe and Lashly had thoroughly and emphatically expressed their opinions about each other, the case was finally submitted to Justice Matthews. He will hand down a decision later. The troubles of the Hays family began soon after their marriage, last January. Mrs. Hays recently was convicted of disturbing her husband's peace, and was fined $10, but Hays, in retaliation, and to pay the fine to keep her from going to jail.

Then there was a fight for possession of the handsome Webster Groves home, in which there has been many unusual incidents. Mrs. Hays, by superior generalship, has managed to keep possession of the house, but she has had no conveniences whatever. She testified that Hays had stopped her credit at all stores in Webster Groves, and that she had to live on borrowed money, and that Hays had published notices in the newspapers stating that he would not be responsible for her bills.

American Survivors of Arabic Disaster

Verdict in Frank Case, "Hanged by Parties Unknown"

heard of the lynching he thought the story was a hoax. "I met Deputy Sheriff Hicks," said the Mayor, "and asked him about it. He said he knew nothing. I suggested that we get a car and go out to the Frey gin, although I thought at the time that when we got back the townfolk would have a good laugh on us. I did not believe we would find Frank, but when we got near the oak thicket, there he was hanging by the neck."

Deputy Sheriff Hicks took charge of the situation. "We have done all in our power to find out who composed the party that hanged Frank," said Marshal Looney to instruct the entire police force to get all the information possible and to report to me the slightest clue."

"Have you received a report?" "No, sir, not yet."

"Is there anything else you would like to say?" "I have seen in the papers that a lot of automobiles were missing from Marietta the morning of the lynching. The truth is we did not miss a single one. I have no idea whether Marietta people or country people were engaged in this transaction."

"Hard to Find Out." "I do not believe the Marietta people are any more responsible for this than the people of the county or any other county. We don't know who did this. It may have been people from another county who brought Frank to this county. We are doing all we can, gentlemen, but you must know, these things are hard to find out."

Charles Mell and W. L. Gray were on the scene of the lynching soon after it happened, but saw no one connected with it. Gray said he saw automobiles "going both ways" along the road early in the morning, but paid no attention to them. Deputy Sheriff Hicks stated to the jury that he and Sheriff Swanson were doing all in their power to discover the persons engaged in the transaction. He said he searched Marietta the day of the lynching, but could find no cars that bore evidence of having been on a long journey.

The lynching will be officially called to the attention of the Cobb County grand jury, Sept. 1.

When the time for the jury to assemble arrived the Coroner decided to transfer the inquest to the County Courthouse to accommodate the large crowd. Attorney John T. Dorsey of Marietta represented the State of Georgia. Gordon Gann acted as special attorney for Coroner Booth.

Saw Half a Dozen Persons. Dr. C. D. Elder, the first witness called to the stand, testified to viewing the body of Frank when it was hanging in the oak grove near the Frey cotton gin. When he arrived on the scene of the lynching the body still was warm.

"How many people were present when you arrived?" "Perhaps half a dozen."

"Please name them," requested Gann.

"As I came up, two men were running out of the woods. One of them was Joe Carter and the other was a man they told me was representing the American Pratt. I also saw W. J. Frey, E. L. Robinson and W. A. Sam. "Was there any mutilation of the body?" "No, sir, the only mark I saw was the cut in the neck that had been opened by the rope."

Dr. Kemp testified that Frank's death was due to strangulation. Ex-Sheriff Frey on Stand. W. J. Frey, owner of the place on which Frank was lynched and regarded as the star witness of the inquest, next took the stand in his shirt sleeves.

"You were among the first to discover the body?" asked Acting Solicitor Dorsey. "Well, sir, when I got there with Gus Benson and Walter Gann, there wasn't anybody in the grove but Leo M. Frank."

"When did you first know anything happened that morning?" "I think it was about 5 o'clock that morning that my brother telephoned me the State prison farm had been broken into and Frank taken out."

"What did you do, then?" "Didn't do anything, but went on about my business at home. Walter Gann, a traveling man from Augusta, was visiting my place. I live right on the main road. Mr. Gann and I were in the field about 6:30 or 7 o'clock when three or four automobiles came whizzing by the place. They were about 40 yards apart."

"Going Along Pretty Fast." "How fast were they going?" "Well, sir, they were going along pretty fast. I should say 25 or 30 miles an hour."

"Then what happened?" "Well, sir, having heard about the break at the prison farm, it popped right into my mind there was something doing in the way of Frank."

Frey said the man he afterward found out was Frank was seated in the rear seat of one of the passing cars with a man on each side of him.

"How was Frank dressed?" "Looked as if he had on a thin shirt of some sort. He was bareheaded."

"Did you know at the time this man was Frank?" "I thought it was him, but I could not recognize him."

"Did you recognize any of the other parties in the cars?" "No, sir."

"Do you know now who they were?" "No, sir."

"Were they masked?" "No, sir, but they all wore goggles and their faces were covered with red dust."

"What did you do next?" "I turned to Walter Gann, and said: 'Let's go to the house, there's something to be doing.' We went to the house and Mrs. Frey had breakfast ready for us in about five minutes. We ate and I got my car started and we put out for Marietta."

Frey said he passed the actual scene of the hanging without noticing anything out of the way.

How He Found the Body. "I had no idea anything had happened that close to my home. So I come on to town, but did not see anything yet. I went to the cemetery, where Mary Hagan is buried, but there was nothing there. I came back into Marietta, and met Gus Benson, who said: 'Bill, those automobiles turned into the road by your gin.' I drove right back to the gin, and when we reached the oak grove there was the body of Frank hanging."

"What did you do then?" "I looked at him, but did not put my hands on him."

Germans Continue Onward Rush as Russians Retreat

aside from the loss of the ships, the gulf and the naval base of Riga are still in Russian hands and menace Von Hindenburg's further advance toward Petrograd.

The German version of the Riga battle has not yet been given out, but the definiteness of the official report on the sinking or crippling of the German battle cruiser Moltke, two other cruisers, and eight torpedo boats has sent a wave of enthusiasm throughout the country and dispelled the depression over the Russian retreat on land.

The latest communication from the Russian War Office places the German losses in the Gulf of Riga as follows: "One battle cruiser, two light cruisers and not less than eight torpedo boats destroyed placed hors d'combat. Some of the latter sank."

Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says that a semi-official statement issued there adds another auxiliary cruiser to the previous list of the German losses in the Gulf of Riga.

German Transports Reported Sunk. From details of the attempted German landing in the Gulf of Riga last Saturday, as published in the Novo Vremya, it appears, says a dispatch from Petrograd to the Central News, that three large transports filled with troops approached the shore under cover of a German squadron. The German ships were allowed to come close to land before a terrific artillery fire was opened by the Russians. A duel between the cruisers and shore batteries continued for two hours before the last transport was sunk. Only a few crowded boats then remained and these soon were smashed to pieces by the Russian fire.

The German squadron managed to destroy some houses with their long range guns. Dusk approached and land at Pernoff, the Germans advanced on Gainsah to the south. Two lighters filled with troops attempting to reach the beach at Gainsah were sunk by Russian shells.

A dispatch to the Morning Post from Petrograd says: "In addition to the German losses previously reported in the Riga battle, a German submarine was run ashore on the coast of Dago Island in the Baltic Sea, just outside the Gulf of Riga, and doubtless also is lost."

Germans Admit Loss of a Destroyer Off Zebrugga. AMSTERDAM, Aug. 24.—An official report of the German admiralty received here says: "Off Zebrugga Sunday night a German outpost boat was attacked by two hostile destroyers. After brave resistance the boat was sunk. Part of her crew was rescued."

Germany Expresses Regret for Attack on ELS in Danish Waters. LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Danish legation at Berlin, according to a Reuter dispatch from Copenhagen, has received from the German Secretary of State a note containing an apology and expression of sincere regret for the violation of neutrality involved in an attack upon a British submarine (ELS) within the territorial waters of Denmark. The note states that renewed and emphatic instructions have been issued to commanders of German war vessels to respect neutral rights.

Three Men Lost When British Trawler Is Destroyed. LONDON, Aug. 24.—Three men lost their lives by the sinking of a trawler from Hull, it was announced today. The other nine members of the crew were rescued.

Kicks Mother-in-Law Downstairs. Mrs. Celeste Hemenway, 29 years old, of 708 Lafayette avenue, was arrested last night after she had kicked her mother-in-law, Mrs. Amanda Hemenway, 54 years old, down a flight of stairs at her home. The latter suffered severe bruises about her side and back, but refused to go to the hospital. The younger woman said that her mother-in-law had been interfering in her domestic affairs.

U. S. TO REDRAFT NOTE TO ENGLAND ON NEUTRAL TRADE

Protest Against Placing Cotton on Contraband List Will Be Incorporated in It.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The new American note to Great Britain on interference with neutral trade probably will be redrafted because of the British order making cotton contraband. The note had been virtually completed. It now will be altered and probably will treat at length the question of the validity under international law of Great Britain's latest action.

While there is no intention to abandon the claims for payment for cotton seized prior to the British order, those cases now have a different status, and a complete record of this phase of the dispute can be prepared and presented. Cases under the contraband order must also go before British prize courts, and there will be no informal negotiations, as there have been in connection with previous seizures.

The new American note it is understood will lodge formal protest against the placing of cotton on the contraband list and a lengthy diplomatic exchange probably will follow. It is considered likely by some officials here that the dispute eventually will be settled by arbitration.

Cotton Shippers Reassured. Reassurance to cotton shippers that their cargoes for neutrals will not be confiscated if they come within the normal consumption under the recent decree of the allies that cotton is contraband, was given in a statement issued today at the British embassy as follows: "It is a misapprehension to suppose that the declaration of cotton to be contraband will result in restricting those consignments of cotton to neutral countries which are proved to be exclusively destined for the normal consumption of those countries. The embassy had no authority, however, to give any assurance as to the immunity of particular shipments, but under the procedure of international law relating to absolute contraband evidence of ultimate enemy destination will be necessary to the condemnation of cotton as a lawful prize."

While the new formal note is in preparation State Department officials are continuing their informal efforts to obtain the release of millions of dollars' worth of German and Austrian goods consigned to the United States now being held up at Rotterdam and other neutral ports as a result of the British order in council.

Private Interests Favored. Unofficial representations to Great Britain have been authorized in an effort to bring forth a further statement of the conditions under which these goods may be shipped without interference by the British fleet.

Particularly officials here seek to learn the truth concerning reports that private interests in England have been arranging for the movement of certain consignments when the efforts of the State Department's foreign trade advisers to obtain permits for the shipment of similar goods have been unavailing since June 15.

An effort will be made to have all shipments released handed through the foreign trade advisers, acting unofficially as the agents of American importers.

FACTS ABOUT THE TWO AMERICANS LOST ON ARABIC

Mrs. Bruguere Was Society Leader of Newport and Paris—Dr. Woods Born in England but Was Naturalized American.

Mrs. Josephine Bruguere of San Francisco, Newport and Paris, and Dr. Edmund F. Woods of Jamestown, Wis., were the two Americans lost when the White Star liner Arabic was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine Thursday, resulting in a tense diplomatic situation between the United States and Germany. Interesting facts about these two persons who thus figure prominently in the history of the country are told in the following dispatches to the Post-Dispatch:

Mrs. Bruguere Was Widow of California Millionaire Banker. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Josephine Bruguere was the widow of the late Emile A. Bruguere, who was a millionaire California banker. She was the daughter of the late Peter Sather and Jane K. Sather. The latter made large bequests to the University of California. Her father established the Sather Banking Co., one of the early day financial institutions of California, which was connected with the Wall street banking house now known as J. P. Morgan & Co. and with which Sather was associated when he came to San Francisco. Bruguere was an employee of the bank and it was in this capacity that he first met Miss Josephine Sather, who, later, became his wife.

Mrs. Bruguere was born in New York about 65 years ago. She came to San Francisco with her father when she was a little girl. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Bruguere made their home at 624 Butter street, later building a residence at 1800 Franklin street, where the family lived until about 10 years ago, when Mrs. Bruguere went to New York. She acquired a villa at Newport, dividing her time between there and San Francisco until she went to Paris, where, in later years, she also maintained an establishment. It was shared by her sons, Emile A. and Louis S., the latter of whom was with her in the Arabic when she lost her life. Her sons were born in this city. Besides those mentioned, there are Dr. Peter Sather Bruguere and Francis J. Bruguere, both of whom are residents of this city. Her son, Emile, is noted for his musical talent and ability as a composer and has been knighted by the French Government. He is now an attendant at one of the war hospitals in Paris.

Mrs. Bruguere's last visit to San Francisco was about six years ago. It was after the great fire and the city seemed so different to her that she remained only a day, returning to Newport. Before she established her home in the east she was a leader of local society and the Bruguere home on Franklin street was the scene of some of the most pretentious social gatherings San Francisco has experienced.

Dr. Woods a Practicing Physician at Jamestown for 25 Years. JAMESTOWN, Wis., Aug. 24.—It is believed here that Dr. Edmund F. Woods of Jamestown died in his stateroom on the Arabic and never had a chance to leave the vessel.

In a letter from London to Mrs. Woods, mailed by her husband shortly before sailing, a chart was enclosed showing the location of the doctor's stateroom, near the part of the vessel where the missile struck. The doctor was in poor health.

Dr. Woods has been a practicing physician and surgeon in this city the last 25 years. He came here from England when he was a boy and received his education in the Rock County schools and at the University of Wisconsin.

Woman, Ill, Tries to End Life. Miss Margaret Finnegan, 24 years old, 2249 Missouri avenue, attempted to kill herself last night by taking a powerful disinfectant. She took the poison in a spell of despondency over her illness, which has kept her bed a greater part of the time since last winter. Her father, John H. Finnegan, called this morning and had her removed to St. Anthony's Hospital.

Dr. Deborah Smith Drury Dies. HAVERHILL, Mass., Aug. 24.—Dr. Deborah Smith Drury, one of the first women in the United States admitted to the practice of medicine and an assistant of Lucy Stone Blackwell in the equal suffrage movement, died yesterday. She was in her ninety-second year.

U. S. HAS NO ONE PICKED IN MEXICO FOR PRESIDENCY

State Department Says Selection of Any Particular Man Has Not Been Considered.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Official announcement was made at the State Department today that the United States Government has not considered any particular man for provisional President of Mexico under the Pan-American peace plan. This statement was issued:

"To correct an erroneous impression that appears to prevail in certain quarters the department wishes to announce that the selection of any particular man for provisional President of Mexico has not been considered by this Government."

The statement generally was construed as a reiteration of the impartiality of the United States in dealing with the factions.

Gen. Carranza's reply to the Pan-American peace appeal still is awaited here. It was reported Carranza had telegraphed Secretary Lansing and the Pan-American diplomats, asking if they, in addressing themselves to Mexican military and political leaders, were acting officially for their respective Governments. Confirmation was lacking at the State Department.

OPPOSES TEACHERS' UNIONS

Chicago School Board Committee Proposes to Prohibit Them.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The Rules Committee of the Board of Education adopted last night an amendment forbidding teachers belonging to any labor union or federation. The amendment is aimed at the Chicago Teachers' Federation, which is reputed to have exerted considerable influence in school affairs. Under the proposal any teacher affiliated with a labor organization will be dismissed for cause.

Members of the committee declared that unionism in the teaching profession was detrimental to the welfare of the public school system. The amendment will be laid before the Board of Education here next month.

PARIS LIONIZES FLIER GILBERT

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Eugene Gilbert, the French aviator, brought down five German aeroplanes before he was compelled by an accident to his motor to land on Swiss territory last June. Since his escape from Switzerland and his arrival in Paris Sunday night, he has been treated as a popular hero.

When Gilbert interned in Switzerland, Gilbert gave his word not to attempt to escape. The enforced idleness preyed on his mind, however, and he took back his promise and seized the first opportunity to get away. With the assistance of a friend, who provided a disguise, he made his way to Lucerne and Geneva, thence to Annemasse, in France.

Dr. Deborah Smith Drury Dies. HAVERHILL, Mass., Aug. 24.—Dr. Deborah Smith Drury, one of the first women in the United States admitted to the practice of medicine and an assistant of Lucy Stone Blackwell in the equal suffrage movement, died yesterday. She was in her ninety-second year.

Hyde Park Tastes Different Because It Is Different

Hyde Park is not simply a beer. Hyde Park is a food, a tonic and a refreshing beverage. Everything that goes into Hyde Park is put there for one of these purposes.

HYDE PARK

"Seldom Equaled Never Exceeded"

Bottled Beer tastes different from other beers because it is different. All of its ingredients are the finest it is possible to obtain. It is brewed under the most exacting conditions. It is aged for many months. And finally, every drop of Hyde Park is pasteurized to doubly insure it reaching you in perfect condition.

A case of Hyde Park in your home will make many a hot day seem cooler, insure you better rest at night, improve your health and furnish a refreshing beverage for every occasion.

Your grocer sells Hyde Park by the case. You can get it also at your favorite hotel, club or cafe.

In our short description telling the story of the making of Hyde Park Bottled Beer, we have spoken about holding certain definite temperatures for certain definite lengths of time. That each brew be exactly correct is of the utmost importance, and to assure this we use a recorder that makes an indelible record of the entire process, showing not only every degree of temperature but also the exact length of time each temperature was held.

APPEAL IS MADE FOR FLOOD RELIEF; $50,000 NEEDED

Residents of Inundated Sections Need Drinking Water, Food and Clothing.

WATER STILL SUBSIDING

Measures Taken to Prevent Pestilence, Flood Having Deposited Thick Scum.

Relief work for flood sufferers was begun at a meeting this morning in Mayor Kiel's office of a committee of business men appointed by him to raise in St. Louis funds necessary to provide food, shelter and clothing for the homeless in St. Louis and St. Louis County. The committee decided to try to raise $50,000 within 24 hours through the agency of the Business Men's League and to distribute the money through the Protestant Association, the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Jewish charity organization.

It was thought at first that $25,000 would be sufficient to meet the needs of the sufferers, but later reports convinced the committee that $50,000 would be required.

While conditions improved materially along the Meramec during the night, the water receding 10 feet by 2 p. m. today, there is immediate need of drinking water, food and clothing in Valley Park and in other communities along the stream.

The members of the committee appointed by the Mayor are M. L. Wilkinson, C. L. Holman, J. Lionberger Davis, Julius Heller, Ben Altheimer, Nelson Cuniff, Charles F. Senter, W. S. McCleskey Jr., Festus J. Wade, Richard McCulloch, James C. Jones, E. M. Fleish, Dr. Max Starkloff, Alexander Hilton, F. M. Curlee, C. P. Walbridge, G. A. Buder and Louis F. Alox.

Members of the Mayor's committee will telephone to persons who may be expected to contribute, but it was announced that there is a general appeal to the public to send contributions to the Business Men's League. The larger corporations and business firms will be requested to contribute at least $100 each to the fund. The public generally is asked to send in any amount individuals may be able to give.

G. A. Buder, a member of the committee, turned over to the Business Men's League $1400, the total to date of a fund raised by the St. Louis Times. While the committee was in session two contributions, for $200 each, were received. One was from the Post-Dispatch and the other from Armour & Co. of East St. Louis. The St. Louis County Court appropriated $500.

C. L. Gurney, acting manager of the Protestant Association, who is experienced in flood relief work, said the money should be distributed by the charity organizations through neighborhood committees, which would be in a position to know whether the applicants were worthy.

$10,000 Needed in Valley Park. William C. Zelle of Valley Park said there were between 2000 and 2500 homeless persons in Valley Park. He said they would need assistance for at least three weeks, and that probably it would be necessary to feed them during that time. He estimated that $10,000 would be needed in Valley Park.

Members of the committee estimated that $15,000 would be needed in St. Louis to relieve distress caused by the flood of the River des Peres Friday night. Gov. Major today made a personal investigation of conditions in Valley Park to determine the needs of the flood sufferers and to determine what steps he can take to afford them State aid. The Governor went to Clayton early this morning and went from there to Valley Park in an automobile.

With the falling of the water county officials began preparations to handle insanitary conditions, which developed rapidly. The town of Valley Park is now dependent almost altogether on the water at Sacred Heart Church. Nearly all the other wells are contaminated. The receding water left a thick slime over ground, buildings and furnishings.

One of the first precautions taken was the issuance of an order by Sheriff Bode that no person should remain for more than a few minutes in any building which had been under water until it could be cleaned. While persons were permitted to visit their homes, they were accompanied by Deputy Sheriffs who required them to depart after they had inspected the damage and gathered a few articles which they wished to remove.

A citizens' committee decided to close the four saloons in Valley Park for three days. Tonight Sheriff Bode will establish a patrol of Valley Park. He and his deputies will be aided by volunteer members of the First Regiment, National Guard of Missouri. All persons will be required to remain off the streets after 9 o'clock, unless they are able to show they have a lawful reason for being out.

Colds and chills developed this morning among many residents, and doctors were busy.

No Serious Illness. No serious illness has resulted from the flood so far. In Valley Park nearly all the medicines were ruined by the flood, but fresh supplies were obtained from St. Louis last night.

A meeting of the Valley Park Business Men's Association, County Physician Egger and Valley Park physicians was called for this morning to systematically handle health conditions. Many of the homeless departed from Valley Park yesterday to remain until the water had receded enough for them to get their homes in order. There remained about 100 to be fed at the Sacred Heart Parish School, the public school and the Valley Park Hotel. The refugees again were cared for during the night in the church and public buildings. Many men slept on the ground, although they could have been cared for in buildings.

Married Woman Slain by Suitor With Whom She Refused to Elope

MRS. SOPHIA KOSANOVICH.

Louis were used principally for women and children. The Missouri Pacific and Frisco Railroads had coaches on the tracks for use by refugees. The Missouri Pacific and Frisco had large gangs of men at Valley Park to repair the tracks as rapidly as the water receded enough for them to reach the tracks. A Frisco superintendent said conditions were so bad that he did not think the road could be opened for trains to Springfield before Saturday night.

Boats Lined Up at Saloon Bar. Sheriff Bode closed the saloon of Edward Raucher, near the Missouri Pacific station in Valley Park. When the water went down so that the top of the bar was visible, the saloon had been opened. Boatmen operated boats from the edge of the water to the saloon, a distance of four blocks. A negro at the door permitted only a few boats to enter through the door at a time. The boats lined up at the bar and their occupants were served. When a boatload finished drinking the negro pushed the boat out and admitted another.

A man at the water's edge solicited business for the boats with a call, "All aboard for the Devil's church. Fare, 5 cents." Persons in the saloon were noisy and occupied with two boats engaged in a quarrel in the saloon and threw bottles at each other. Several persons fell from the boats into the water in the saloon.

4000 HOMELESS AT NEWPORT, ARK.

Flood Refugees Cared for in Hotels, Courthouse and Depots; Gas Supply Threatened.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 24.—Little Rock today faced its fourth gas famine this year as the result of a break in the main at Red River, near Lewisville, caused by the high water. Local officials announced today that the supply of gas would be exhausted by noon tomorrow. This also affects Hot Springs, Pine Bluff and other Arkansas towns.

Newport this morning was cut off from the outside world by the flood waters of White River, except for long-distance telephone communication. Train service in and out of Newport was entirely demoralized. The Iron Mountain main line and the White River division tracks being covered by water to a depth ranging from three to twelve feet. Although the water has risen little since last night, reports from points above Newport indicate a further rise may be expected.

About 4000 residents of Newport and vicinity are crowded into two local hotels, the courthouse, the Iron Mountain depot and a few houses into which the water did not rise. The only drinking water is obtained from the Iron Mountain pumping station.

Telephone communication was resumed with Batesville last night. Refugees who were taken there from Ol Trough, said it was not true that a family of five persons were drowned in the overflow in the bottoms near Ol Trough. The steamboats Mary C. Lucas and Muskogee continue to bring in refugees from the flooded districts.

Families Suffering for Food Since Last Friday's Flood.

Mrs. W. E. Flak of 423 North Taylor avenue reported today that she had discovered by personal investigation that there are at least seven or eight families in the vicinity of Hermitage and Manchester avenue which have been without sufficient food and adequate clothing since the flood Friday. She said one family told her there had been nothing to eat in the house for several days.

Mrs. Flak distributed several baskets of food among them last night and sent out more this morning. She said that additional aid was needed.

TWO PERSONS OVERCOME BY GAS

Mrs. Anna Bando, 65 years old, and her grandson, Sam Gulliana, 14, were overcome by gas in their home, 300 West street, this morning. They were found unconscious at 1:30 o'clock by Mrs. Anna Gulliana, the boy's mother, who summoned an ambulance and had them taken to the city hospital, where it was said they were in a serious condition.

The police reported that a gas pipe in the cellar had leaked.

TRAINS RESTORED ON NUMBER OF FLOODED LINES

Missouri Pacific Opens Service West and Southwest; Frisco Still Under Water.

A slight, but steady improvement in the train service to and from St. Louis following the many washouts caused by the floods, was reported this morning. A 10-foot drop in the Meramec River has cleared the Missouri Pacific's main line tracks of flood waters and that company announced this afternoon that its full service would be restored on its main line at once. The first train out of St. Louis over the main line since last Friday was a fast train which left Union Station for the Pacific Coast at 2 p. m. All other trains, it was announced, will leave Union Station on schedule.

The Missouri Pacific and Frisco tracks run parallel from St. Louis to Pacific. The Frisco tracks, at many points, are on lower grade than the Missouri Pacific, and in places are still submerged. Frisco engineers, making repairs at Valley Park, said no trains likely could be run over the Frisco main line to Springfield before Saturday.

The Iron Mountain, beginning with a train at 7:32 this morning, restored service on its main line tracks between St. Louis and Piedmont, Mo. All trains for points further south, however, will continue to be operated over the Illinois division to Elmo, over the Cotton Belt to Paragould, Ark., and then over the Iron Mountain main line to Wynne and Bald Knob, Ark.

Other train reports were as follows: M. & T.—Entire schedule resumed. Wabash.—All trains running. Those on Eastern division on time this morning; Western division trains late.

Burlington.—East division trains on time. On the Western division the Burlington has combined trains today with the Alton. Two morning trains from Kansas City arrived, each 40 minutes late. Departures are made on time. Combination trains from St. Joe and from St. Paul arrived this morning on time.

Baltimore & Ohio.—All trains are running, but were reported late. The morning train from New York via Cincinnati was 40 minutes late.

Frisco.—Several trains are being rerouted over the Wabash and Katy. The company announces that suburban trains to Valley Park are operated on time today and the Memphis Express left Union Station on time last night. The corresponding train from Memphis to St. Louis, due here at 7:30 a. m., was about four hours late. The Texas Limited left Union Station at 8:25 p. m. yesterday over the Katy tracks via Springfield and Joplin. The Texas train due here at 7:35 a. m. will not arrive until 6 p. m.

Upon other lines there was but little change from yesterday's conditions. Reports showed: Pennsylvania.—All trains running, but several of them about one hour late.

Alton.—All trains in operation. Generally late in arriving and departing. Big Bear.—All trains running late. I. & N.—Complete service resumed.

Rock Island.—Through trains running on Wabash tracks, leaving on time. Break between Centaur and Union still causes annihilation of local westbound and southbound trains.

Cotton Belt.—All trains on time. The improvement in service was shown by the disappearance of the crowds that have been in Union Station since last Friday. The number of persons in the station this morning was estimated by officials there as being about normal.

MAN KILLS WOMAN, MAKES SURE SHE IS DEAD, THEN FLEES

Melin Peakovich Placed Bar to Heart of Mrs. Sophia Kosanovich After Shooting.

Melin Peakovich, 30 years old, of Belleville, after shooting Mrs. Sophia Kosanovich, 32, through the heart in the kitchen of her home, 1801 South Third street, at 5:30 p. m. yesterday because she would not elope with him, placed his ear close to her heart and after making sure she was dead, fled.

Mrs. Kosanovich recently received several letters from Peakovich demanding that she desert her husband, Kosta Kosanovich, a car repairer, and run away with him. In the last letter, received Thursday, he said he would kill her if she refused his demand. The woman's husband said she showed the letters to him and that he tried to find Peakovich, but failed.

Yesterday afternoon Peakovich mounted the stairs of the Kosanovich home. He had a revolver in his hand. Mrs. Mary Pavlitch, a roomer in the house, became so frightened that she leaped from a second-story window. She suffered a broken hip.

Mrs. Christina Vonna, another roomer, told the police that when Peakovich entered the kitchen Mrs. Kosanovich pleaded with him to leave, but that he, without replying, began firing. Two bullets went wild. The third passed through her right arm and into her heart.

When policemen reached the house Peakovich was gone.

GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS WELCOMES OTHER EXECUTIVES

He Declares That Good Government Now Demands More Concentration of Power Than Fathers Planned.

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The welcome of the State and city was extended to Governor Good, former Governor of Massachusetts, by Gov. David I. Walsh and Mayor James M. Curley at the opening session of the Governor's conference in the Senate chamber at the State House today.

Gov. Walsh while the founder of the executive with limitations that tended to reduce him to an ornamental figurehead, it was becoming generally understood of late that the business efficiency indispensable for good government could be obtained only by concentrating power and responsibility to a far greater degree than the fathers planned.

Responses were made by Gov. William Spry of Utah and Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard University, the latter representing the conference on universities and public service held in conjunction with the Governor's meeting. The first formal address of the session was made by former Gov. Elias M. Ammons of Colorado on "Development of the West."

COUPLE WHO WED TO GET CITY JOB FIND THEY ARE TOO YOUNG

Twenty-Two Married Couple to Take Examination Tomorrow for Places at Industrial Home.

A newly married couple aspiring to become "house father and mother" at the new home for city charges at Forest Hills, were disappointed yesterday when Chief Examiner Cullen of the Efficiency Board told them they were too young. He was 25 and she 22.

The minimum age limit is 30 years. They were married the day before, they said, under the impression that marriage would qualify them to hold the positions created by the Board of Children's Guardians. The "house father" will receive $70 monthly and the "house mother" $35. The "house mother" will have to look after 30 boys ranging in age from 16 to 18 years.

The efficiency examination will be conducted tomorrow. There are 22 couples entered, and three couples will be appointed. There will be no written test as usual, Examiner Cullen said. The applicants will be graded on character, personality and experience.

LANSHING NOT FOR GRAPE JUICE

Secretary of State Serves Wine at Dinner for Senator Cardozo.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, entertained last night in honor of Senator Cardozo, the Brazilian Minister to Mexico. Grape juice was not in evidence, despite the precedent set by William J. Bryan. The wines usually served at all official dinners were provided for the guests.

"Wine will be served at all diplomatic banquets where the Secretary of State is host," said Mr. Lansing when questioned as to her plans. "Mr. Lansing and I are not extremists in the advocacy of temperance."

MAN ACCUSED OF KEEPING UP DOUBLE HOME TELLS STORY

Ralph Brumbaugh Admits Infidelity; Makes Counter Charges Against Wife.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The marital memoirs of Ralph Brumbaugh were given today in the form of an answer to Mrs. Katherine Brumbaugh's bill for separate maintenance. The answer is a sort of admission to dwellers in glass apartments not to throw bricks.

In the first paragraph Brumbaugh neither admits nor denies his intimacy with Margaret Schuetzel, alias Mrs. Alton, alias Mrs. Miller. He also neither admits nor denies that he has maintained a double home and that he is known as Julius Millhar.

Then he readjusts his attitude in the document and pleads guilty to the infidelity charge, but adds that there also is one George Butler, formerly the Brumbaugh chauffeur. Mrs. Brumbaugh expects Butler to testify at the trial to Brumbaugh's cruelty.

But the furniture dealer says he came home unexpectedly on Oct. 12, last year, and found his wife and Butler together. He avers he ordered them out, whereupon they jumped on him. Whatever cruelty he inflicted on his wife, the answer reads, he inflicted in self-defense and to put her and Butler out of the residence.

Mrs. Brumbaugh says she broke her nose and smashed her ribs and sent her to a hospital for a month. And then he inserted this advertisement in a Chicago newspaper: "What is home without a wife?" He adds that Mrs. Brumbaugh had gone to her mother and he had to get rid of all his "elegant furniture at a sacrifice."

Mrs. Brumbaugh returned from the hospital a month later to effect a reconciliation. Brumbaugh's tale of the reconciliation, however, differs from the story told by his wife. He affirms that he confessed all his sins to her and she confessed her misdeeds to him. And each promised to be good so they might live happily ever after.

Since the reconciliation with Mrs. Brumbaugh's condemnation of his acts, he asserts, he merely has supported Margaret Schuetzel and their two children, with Mrs. Brumbaugh's knowledge and consent.

MORE SECRET BELGIAN DOCUMENTS PUBLISHED

Letters of Belgian Minister to Berlin Written in 1912 and 1913 Printed in Germany Refer to Russia's Balkan Policy.

BERLIN, by wireless to Bayville, Aug. 24.—The Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung has published further extracts from secret documents found by the Germans on taking possession of Brussels. The latest installment deals with the period of the Balkan wars. The Overseas News Agency in a summary given out for publication says:

"Concerning Russia's policy, the Belgian Minister to Berlin (Baron Beyens), in a letter written on Oct. 24, 1912, repeats statements made by Jules Cambon, then French Ambassador at Berlin, writing as follows:

"The French Ambassador, who apparently has special reasons for speaking as he does, told me repeatedly that the greatest danger to the maintenance of European peace was the lack of discipline and the personal conduct of Russian diplomats in foreign countries. They are all ardent Pan-Slavists, and they have largely to carry the burden of responsibility for present events. They will, without doubt, secretly instigate Russian intervention in the Balkan conflict."

"The arrogance and contempt with which the Servians receive the complaints of the Vienna Government can be understood only by reason of the support they hope to find in Petersburg. The Servian Charge d'Affaires here said recently that his Government would not have maintained its attitude of the last six months, without regard to Austrian representations, if it had not been encouraged to do so by the Russian Minister, M. Hartwig, a diplomat of Wolasky's school."

SECRETARY M'ADDOO WILL AID COTTON GROWERS IF NECESSARY

Plan for Deposit of $20,000,000 Gold in Banks to Help Market Crop to Advantage.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Secretary McAdoo is prepared to extend financial aid to the Southern cotton growers to enable them to dispose of their product to the greatest advantage. The Secretary announced yesterday, from his summer home in Maine, that in view of action of the allies in making cotton contraband, he was ready, if necessary, to take either one of two courses to help the cotton producers. One of these plans is to deposit $20,000,000 or more of gold in Federal reserve banks at Atlanta, Dallas and Richmond, to enable those banks to rediscount loans on cotton secured by warehouse receipts, made by national and state banks belonging to the reserve system. No interest would be charged on the deposits for the present at least.

The other plan is to deposit the gold directly with national banks agreeing to lend the money on cotton at a rate not to exceed 6 per cent. The latter plan will be used if the object sought can be accomplished with greater efficiency thereby.

Secretary McAdoo declared that if there were co-operation of bankers, merchants and producers, the cotton situation could be handled with happy results.

Seaman's Law Before President.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Attorney General Gregory completed his interpretation of administrative features of the new seaman's law yesterday, and will submit it to President Wilson today.

WRECKAGE FOUND; BELIEVED TO BE FROM LOST SHIP

Dr. E. N. Tobey of St. Louis Was on the Marowijne; Jesuit Companions Safe.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24.—A wireless message received here today by the United Fruit Co. stated that the wreckage of a steamship had been found on the Yucatan coast and was believed to be pieces of the lost steamer Marowijne, now nine days overdue.

The fruit company sent wireless instructions to the steamers Suriname and Preston to proceed to the scene and make positive identification.

Three Jesuits Announce Their Arrival at New Orleans. A telegram received yesterday at St. Louis University set at rest the anxiety concerning the Rev. Alphonse Schwetelin, S. J.; the Rev. John Cooney, S. J.; and Richard R. Rooney, S. J., a scholastic, who, it was feared, had perished on the steamer Marowijne, but confirmed the fact that Dr. Edward Nelson Tobey, Assistant City Bacteriologist, was on the missing ship. The message said: "We arrived safely but Dr. Tobey was on the missing boat." It was sent from New Orleans, where the three arrived yesterday morning on the liner Coppe-maine.

The three Jesuits and Dr. Tobey left St. Louis July 19 to study tropical diseases. The Marowijne sailed from Belize, British Honduras, Aug. 11. It carried 38 passengers. Radio messages were received by a southbound ship from the Marowijne until 1:30 p. m. of the day that it sailed from Belize. After that the Marowijne operator did not respond to calls. A tropical hurricane struck the Yucatan Channel that day.

It was learned that Dr. Henry Burke, a veterinary inspector for the Federal Bureau of Animal Inspection, who formerly lived in East St. Louis, was a Marowijne passenger. He was returning to the states from Guatemala, where he had gone to inspect Honduras cattle which recently were shipped to East St. Louis.

Dr. Burke, for five years prior to 1910, was supervisor for the bureau at the National Stockyards in East St. Louis. He was single, about 45 years old, and had done considerable Government work in the Northwest.

SCHOOL BOARD AND CONTRACTORS SUED BY BONDING FIRMS

Accounting and Injunction
Asked for Outgrowth of Cleveland High School Trouble.

The Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Co., and the American Bonding Co. filed suit in the Circuit Court this morning against the Board of Education and 22 material supply houses, which furnished material for the Grover Cleveland High School, asking for an accounting and an injunction to restrain them from proceeding with suits and from bringing other suits against the bonding companies growing out of the building of the school.

The bonding companies set out in their petition that the contract for the building was let in December, 1910, to Wall Brothers, which continued on the contract until Nov. 6, 1914.

It is alleged that at this time the Board of Education interfered with the construction of the building by inciting union laborers to strike, and by inciting union laboring men to interfere with nonunion men employed by Wall Brothers, and by inducing material companies to refuse to furnish more material.

Nov. 6 Wall Brothers assigned the contract to Charles A. Leary, who continued the work until Jan. 25, 1915, when he quit because of a demand by the board that he replace the plastering in the building.

The petition alleges that the Board's action in this regard amounted to a breach of the contract. Leary assigned his rights to the bonding companies. Leary contended the board owed him $70,000 for the work he had done.

The petition alleges that Leary could have completed the building for $55,000, but that the board, which took over the work, expended $110,000, for which it has made claim to the bonding companies. The board also has filed a claim for $75,000 for delay in finishing the building.

The Court is asked to require the board to make an accounting of the money expended and to issue an injunction to prevent the prosecution of suits against the bonding companies.

VICE PRESIDENT AGAINST LARGE INCREASE IN STANDING ARMY

Favors Citizen Soldier in Address at Jefferson City—Says High Efficiency and Freedom Won't Mix.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 24.—Vice President Marshall, who was here yesterday to deliver a Chautauqua address, said he was not in favor of increasing the United States standing army to any great extent, but, like President Wilson, believed that a trained citizen soldiery was far better. He advocates compulsory military training in all high schools and colleges.

"There are only three things that a soldier needs to know," he said. "He must know how to take care of his health, how to shoot and how to obey orders. The greatest difficulty in handling a great citizen soldiery will be to find enough competent officers to handle large bodies of soldiers."

"You hear a good many people now crying about efficiency," said the Vice President. "but there is just this about that question: you can't have the highest state of efficiency when you have individual freedom. The two will no more mix than oil and water. The reason the Germans represent a so much higher degree of efficiency than their opponents is because every German is taught from birth that it does not make much difference what happens to him, so long as it is for the good of the empire."

$107,000 FOR DESCENDANTS OF NOTED JOURNALIST'S CREDITORS

Search Being Made for Persons to Whom Money From "Worthless" Mine Stock Is Due.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—William Forre Scott, United States assignee in bankruptcy, has $107,000 which he is trying to distribute among the descendants of the creditors of the noted journalist, James Watson Webb, who died a bankrupt many years ago. Among his assets, pledged with his creditors, was supposedly worthless stock of a Maryland mining company which recently turned out to be valuable.

The company prospered without success for iron and finally turned to coal. The Webb shares were pledged with the United States Bank, which failed about 1877, and they have been missing for nearly 30 years. The mining company's records proved his title to them. Other shares in the same mine were held by Tilly Allen, an old New York business man, whose estate also has come into the care of the assignee in bankruptcy. The trouble is to find the descendants of the creditors.

JAPAN'S MUNITION PLANTS ORDERED TO HURRY WORK

Premier and War Minister Visit Emperor and Confer With Ambassadors of Allies.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Premier Okuma and Minister of War Ozka have paid a visit to Nikko to report to the Emperor their plans for increasing the output of munitions, in accordance with the decision recently reached to employ all available resources, both governmental and private, in aid of Japan's allies in the war.

Afterward the Premier and War Minister conferred with the Ambassadors of the allied Powers.

Orders have been dispatched to the foundries and factories of the empire that are engaged in the production of munitions to rush their work.

The Kokumin Shimbun says:

"Count Okuma emphasizes the impracticability and impossibility of dispatching troops to Europe, but points out that the great advance in the capacity of the Japanese to manufacture munitions will prove of great help to the allies."

"The Premier said Japan planned to send delegates to the peace conference, although it was not expected to extend her sphere of influence to Europe, according to the Japanese to recognize Japan's supremacy in the Orient," he said.

CANADIAN PRISON CAMP HEAD SAYS GERMANS DON'T COMPLAIN

Maj. Oulton Declares That Scores of Prisoners Have Expressed Satisfaction With Conditions.

AMHERST, Nova Scotia, Aug. 24.—Maj. G. R. Oulton, in command of the detention camp here, said last night that he had never received a complaint from one of the 700 German civilian prisoners confined there, but, on the contrary, scores had expressed to him their satisfaction with the conditions. Maj. Oulton also said he had several visits from the American Consul, C. Forman of Montreal, New Brunswick, who, according to the commandant, had always expressed himself as pleased with the conditions.

A dispatch from Berlin yesterday said reports were reaching Germany to the effect the prisoners were not well treated.

"The prisoners' food is the regular army ration," Maj. Oulton added, "except that in place of one pound of fresh beef daily, they get one-half pound five days of the week and the other two days they get one pound. We are starting on the Government ration this week, when they will be given full rations."

Thin Folks Who Would Increase Weight

Simple Directions Easy to Follow.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nutriment it contained? You have gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like a stream of water through an open grate. The nutriment was lost. And the plain truth is, you are hardly getting enough nutriment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of this folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation are easily out of gear and need reconstruction.

If ever you're tried to put on weight, here is the only way to do it. Directions: Cut out everything but the meat from your diet. Eat only meat, eggs, butter, cream, and a little fruit. This is the only way to get the fat-producing contents of the food. The nutriment is absorbed and the fat is stored in the body. The result is a healthy, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nutriment it contained? You have gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like a stream of water through an open grate. The nutriment was lost. MAYOR INVITED TO ATTEND MILITARY TRAINING CAMP

Not Sure He'll Go to Fort Sheridan, but Thinks Drill Might Be Good Fat Reducer.

We didn't raise our Kiel to be a soldier, we brought him up to bear our civic duties; but soon he'll have a musket on his shoulder, beside a bunch of other husky Mayors.

That is, if Mayor Kiel accepts an invitation which has been sent to him by United States army officers to serve in a civilian war camp at Fort Sheridan, Chicago, from Sept. 20 to Oct. 20. The same invitation has been sent to the Mayors of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, Columbus, Springfield, Ill., and other central and Western cities.

The Mayor heard about it this morning through a dispatch to the Post-Dispatch from Chicago, which a reporter showed to him. This dispatch said that Col. D. A. Frederick, in command of the Department of the Lakes, United States army, had mailed application blanks to the different Mayors, and that they were expected to follow the example of Mayor Mitchell of New York, who served as a private in the camp at Plattsburg, N. Y.

"Sounds fine," the Mayor remarked. "Those civilian camps are a fine thing to develop patriotism and train our citizens."

"Then you'll accept?" the reporter asked. "Well," he replied, "I'll have to wait and see what the application blank says. I've never had any military experience, and I don't know just how this thing of sleeping on the ground and drilling all day would work. I weigh 230 now, and it might hurt me a bit to knock off 30 or 40 pounds that way. But I believe I'd rather take my first drill from Col. Donnelly or some of the boys here, than to start in as a raw recruit before strangers."

"But if the other Mayors accept, you wouldn't leave St. Louis unrepresented," the reporter suggested. "I'll have to see about that," was the answer. "As I said, I think these camps are a fine thing."

Plans for the Camp. The plans announced for the Fort Sheridan Camp, according to the dispatch, call for 16 hours' work daily. The recruits will wear regulation khaki field uniforms, and will be awakened by reveille at 5:45 every morning. Ten minutes will be allowed for dressing and washing, and 15 minutes for breakfast. The day will begin at 7, and will continue, with short rest periods, until 11:30. Mess and rest until 2 o'clock, then special training through the afternoon. This will include riding, trench digging, map making, construction of offensive and defensive works and handling of arms and artillery. Two hours each evening will be given to lectures on tactics, strategy, camp hygiene and military movements. Taps will sound at 9 o'clock, and all lights must be out and the men in their tents by 10.

The food will be fresh meat and vegetables. All intoxicants will be barred. Dress parades and social functions have no part in the plan. Moving picture photographers are desired as recruits, and will be used as scouts, in testing a plan to substitute motion photography for the old style of reconnoitering and map-making.

Camp Near Here Desired. Edward Hiden, president of the Business Men's League, who is now in the East, will confer with Major-General Wood and War Department officials and will ask that a citizens' training camp be established near St. Louis, suggesting Jefferson Barracks as a suitable place. The league has received a letter from Gen. Wood, in which he says that he has urged the department to establish a large camp "in Chicago or near St. Louis—perhaps one for each place—next year."

William Ross Glasgow of 415 McPherson avenue, assistant manager of the American Steel Foundry plant in Granite City and a great-grandson of William Carr Lane, first Mayor of St. Louis, is one of the recruits in the Plattsburg camp, and so far as is known, is the only St. Louisian there.

Applications to Join Fort Sheridan Encampment Increase. CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Col. Nicholson and his officers are preparing for the opening of Uncle Sam's "military kindergarten" at Fort Sheridan next month. While the training will be strenuous, it will be tempered during the opening days of the encampment to meet the physical condition of the men, the expectation being that a short time only will be necessary to harden the "rookies" for the strict regulations of military life.

As the fort officers proceeded with their arrangements today applications to join the encampment were received in the office of Col. D. A. Frederick, in the Federal building, and the headquarters of Col. Nicholson, in increasing numbers. Indications today are that more than a sufficient number of applications to complete the quota of 1000 will be received within the next few days.

Senators J. Hamilton Lewis and Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois may participate in the encampment. Invitations have been sent to them, as well as to the Congressmen of the State and Senators and Congressmen of adjacent states. Prominent business men, lawyers, doctors, architects and engineers in the Middle West are among those whom Col. Frederick is inviting to attend the encampment.

Fire Chief to Deliver Address. Fire Chief Henderson will deliver his illustrated address on "What the Arson Gang of St. Louis is Doing," before the St. Peter's Brotherhood, at the church, St. Louis and Warner avenues, at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Garland's Sale of New Dresses at $10.90

A just-arrived shipment of taffeta and serge frocks for wearing now, reminds one of grandmother's days, when her "best" frock was of taffeta, with the seams painstakingly hand run. They are short-waisted, and the skirts are very full. The waists are more like little jackets of the Eton type. The collars add a quaint, demure touch. They are wonderfully smart and clever, and at $10.90 seems an almost unbelievable price for them.

There are several original styles. Taffeta in combination with serge, crepe de chine with Georgette crepe sleeves, taffeta with chiffon sleeves, radium striped silk poplin. Dark blues and black predominate. All sizes for misses and women, $10.90.

Other smart frocks, specially priced to encourage early buying. They are in all the new silken fabrics.

Priced $12.75, $15, $19.95 and up to $69.50 (Third Floor.)

GREAT BRITAIN HAS SPENT MILLIONS IN WAR ADVERTISING

New Campaign, to Educate People to Be Economical, Just Has Been Started.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 15.—How many million dollars the British Government has spent in advertising during the first year of the war no expert accountant has yet had the facilities to estimate. It is safe to say, however, that no nation ever spent one-tenth as much on printer's ink in the same period. Kitchener's army has been raised chiefly by advertising. Full-page, half-page and smaller advertisements in the papers are almost daily occurrences. The billboards have been covered with the greatest variety of posters any advertiser ever had printed. A collection of these would reveal every play of ingenious appeal advertising experts are capable of inventing. The signs on trams, buses and private motor cars in crease rather than decrease as the war continues. There are appeals for recruits in prose and verse, in cartoon and suggestive picturing, all dressed as attractively as colored inks and trained advertising men can make them. The recent big war loan, the largest in the history of the Government's borrowings, was the occasion of another tremendous advertising campaign. Even the big advertisers who have contracts for the outside pages of the dailies were pushed into the inside so John Bull could ask Britons to pour their savings into the nation's till.

AUSTRIANS TRYING TO LURE ITALIANS INTO THEIR LINES

Rewards Offered for Desertions and for War Materials Brought to Them.

ROME, Aug. 24.—Offers of a surprising nature have been made to the Italian soldiers by the Austrians in circulars which have been posted to trees, fences and posts along the Italian line of march. These circulars tell of the benefits which will accrue to a soldier if he deserts and gives himself up to the enemy and offer a big bonus for the surrender of guns, cannon and munitions. In a recent issue of the Piccolo a dispatch headed "The Eloquence of the Austro-Boche," contains a copy of the circular. In telling of the circular the Piccolo says: "Mr. Amicore Christ published in L'Humanite a translation of an appeal for desertion which the Austrians have been distributing among the Italian soldiers and posting on their line of march. The poster is as follows: 'Italian soldiers! The absolutely terrifying malice into a war of conquest and plunder. To fire traitorously upon your former allies is an act of immorality without equal in the records of history. Divine Providence will punish each of those who commits such a heinous crime. Each of you, in the face of God and the face of death, should renounce the great crime which you intend to commit with a sacrifice of your own blood. Think of the terrible fatigue and continual dangers which a blind Government is imposing upon you. Think also of the terrible privations which your actions are bringing to your unfortunate families. Why go in the face of such misfortune when there is a chance to free yourselves from it? 'Make the most of every opportunity to surrender, particularly when a propitious moment presents itself. Refuse to obey orders and follow in a body the example of all your comrades who come to us and who will never regret it. For arms and other war materials which you give over to us you will receive a premium; for each complete rifle, 10 crowns; for each machine gun, 500 crowns; for each cannon, 2000 crowns; for each aeroplane intact, 3000 crowns, and for each horse, 100 crowns. 'In Austria prisoners of war are well treated. They are gathered together in villages with their companions. They are allowed the greatest amount of liberty. Best of all, they receive plenty of food for a soldier. They are absolutely free from all danger. Do not hesitate! Desert in mass. You are welcome. Give this note wide distribution and encourage all your friends to follow you.' Commenting further on the note, the Piccolo says: 'So eloquent is this appeal that the 'friends' do not wish to surrender. They prefer to fight for a single crown—the crown of Savoy.'

OFFICIAL OF FIRM TELLS WHY HE WROTE TO GERMAN AGENT

Says Company Deemed It Advisable to Learn Its Status With Regard to German Penal Code.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 24.—Erich Joseph, general manager of the Orenstein-Arthur-Koppel company's plant at Koppel, Pa., today issued the following statement: "The correspondence published by the New York World in its issue of Sunday, Aug. 22, must be clear to all those who read it carefully. It certainly does not merit the consideration attempted to be put thereon by that newspaper. Section 8 of the German penal law and the acts supplemental thereto, passed by the German Federal Council since the beginning of the war, are no different in their intent and effect from the orders in council of King George V of Aug. 5, Sept. 19 and 20 and the supplemental acts of the British Government. 'All this legislation makes it a penal offense for the subjects of the respective countries to do business with belligerent countries or citizens thereof in such a manner as to give such belligerents any aid or advantage. Since the officers of the Orenstein-Arthur-Koppel company are subject to such laws in Germany, the company deemed it advisable to get details of such laws and their version from the German Consul and Ambassador.' In a letter to Consul-General Stobbe, reproduced in the World, Joseph wrote: 'We wish under no circumstances to accept any kind of an order which might in any way violate either the letter or the spirit of the German laws.' The order referred to was one for the Russian Government."

A. Mitchell Palmer Says He Is Not the "M. P." of World Article.
STROUDSBURG, Pa., Aug. 24.—Former Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, after reading today's New York World, issued the following statement: "The story printed in the World this morning which indicates, though it does not say, that I am the mysterious 'M. P.' referred to in somebody's report of an alleged conversation with the President, is all a fairy tale as far as I am concerned. I never had any such conversation with the President and never reported any such conversation to anybody, anywhere at any time."

Smoke Obscures Course, Ship Grounds
SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 24.—Three tugs succeeded at high tide last night in pulling into deep water the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Panama Maru, which grounded yesterday just south of Seattle because of smoke from forest fire obscuring her course. The liner appeared to be undamaged and proceeded to Tacoma.

JAPAN'S MILITATION PLANTS ORDERED TO HURRY WORK

Premier and War Minister Visit
Emperor and Confer With Ambassadors of Allies.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Premier Okuma and Minister of War Oka have paid a visit to Nikko to report to the Emperor their plans for increasing the output of munitions, in accordance with the decision recently reached to employ all available resources, both governmental and private, in aid of Japan's allies in the war.

Afterward the Premier and War Minister conferred with the Ambassadors of the allied Powers.

Orders have been dispatched to the foundries and factories of the empire that are engaged in the production of munitions to rush their work.

The Kokumun Shimbun says:

"Count Okuma emphasizes the impracticability and impossibility of dispatching troops to Europe, but points out that the great advance in the capacity of the Japanese to manufacture munitions will prove of great help to the allies."

MAYOR INVITED TO ATTEND MILITARY TRAINING CAMP

Not Sure He'll Go to Fort Sheridan, but Thinks Drill Might Be Good Fat Reducer.

We didn't raise our Kiel to be a soldier, we brought him up to bear our civil care; but soon he'll have a musket on his shoulder, beside a bunch of other husky Mayors.

That is, if Mayor Kiel accepts an invitation which has been sent to him by United States army officers to serve in a civilian war camp at Fort Sheridan, Chicago, from Sept. 20 to Oct. 20. The same invitation has been sent to the Mayors of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, Columbus, Springfield, Ill., and other central and Western cities.

The Mayor heard about it this morning through a dispatch to the Post-Dispatch from Chicago, which a reporter showed to him. This dispatch said that Col. D. A. Frederick, in command of the Department of the Lakes, United States army, had mailed application blanks to the different Mayors, and that they were expected to follow the example of Mayor Mitchell of New York, who served as a private in the camp at Plattsburg, N. Y.

"Sounds fine," the Mayor replied.

"That sounds fine," Mayor Kiel remarked. "Those civilian camps are a fine thing to develop patriotism and train our citizens."

"Then you'll accept?" the reporter asked.

"Well," he replied, "I'll have to wait and see what the application blank says. I've never had any military experience, and I don't know just how this thing of sleeping on the ground and drilling all day would work. I weigh 230 now, and it might not hurt me a bit to knock off 20 or 40 pounds that way. But I believe I'd rather take my first drill from Col. Donnelly or some of the boys here than to start in as a raw recruit before strangers."

"But if the other Mayors accept, you wouldn't leave St. Louis unrepresented?" the reporter suggested.

"I'll have to see about that," was the answer. "As I said, I think these camps are a fine thing."

Plans for the Camp.

The plans announced for the Fort Sheridan Camp, according to the dispatch, call for 15 hours' work daily. The recruits will wear regulation khaki field uniforms, and will be awakened by reveille at 5:45 every morning. Ten minutes will be allowed for dressing and washing, and the men must be in line for roll call at 5:55. A half hour of setting up gear follows, then breakfast, with time for a cigar afterward. Drilling will begin at 7, and will continue, with short rest periods, until 11:30. Mess and rest until 2 o'clock, then special training through the afternoon. This will include riding, trench digging, map making, construction of offensive and defensive works and handling of arms and artillery. Two hours each evening will be given to lectures on tactics, strategy, camp hygiene and military movements. Trench paper holders, tooth brush holders, bathtub soap dishes, double robe hooks, towel bars, 16 to 24 in., Soap Dishes, Robe Hooks, Towel Arms, Tumbler Holders, Toilet Paper Holders, Tooth Brush Holders, Bathtub Soap Dishes, Double Robe Hooks, Towel Bars, 24, 30 and 36 in., Glass Shelves, 24 and 30 in., Toilet Paper Holders, Tumbler and Soap Holders, covered ends.

Camp Near Here Desired.

Edward Hadden, president of the Business Men's League, who is now in the East, will confer with Major-General Wood and War Department officials and will ask that a citizens' training camp be established near St. Louis, suggesting Jefferson Barracks as a suitable place. The league has received a letter from Gen. Wood, in which he says that he has urged the department to establish a large camp "in Chicago or near St. Louis—perhaps one for each place—next year."

William Ross Glasgow of 4013 McPherson avenue, assistant manager of the American Steel Foundry plant in Granite City and a great-grandson of William Carr Lane, first Mayor of St. Louis, is one of the recruits in the Plattsburg camp, and so far as is known, is the only St. Louisian there.

Applications to Join Fort Sheridan

Recruitment Increase.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Col. Nicholson and his officers are preparing for the opening of Uncle Sam's "military kindergarten" at Fort Sheridan next month. While the training will be strenuous, it will be tempered during the opening days of the encampment to meet the physical condition of the men, the expectation being that a short time only will be necessary to harden the "rookies" for the strict regulations of military life.

As the fort officers proceeded with their arrangements today applications to join the encampment were received in the office of Col. D. A. Frederick, in the Federal building, and the headquarters of Col. Nicholson. In increasing numbers. Indications today are that more than a sufficient number of applications to complete the quota of 1000 will be received within the next few days.

Senators J. Hamilton Lewis and Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois may participate in the encampment. Invitations have been sent to them, as well as to the Congressmen of the State and Senators and Congressmen of adjacent states. Prominent business men, lawyers, doctors, architects and engineers in the Middle West are among those whom Col. Frederick is inviting to attend the encampment.

Fire Chief to Deliver Address.

Fire Chief Henderson will deliver his illustrated address on "What the Arson Gang of St. Louis is Doing," before the St. Peter's Brotherhood, at the church, St. Louis and Warren avenues, at 8 p. m. Thursday.

UNREST DUE TO LOW WAGES, SAYS MANLY REPORT; MANY WORKERS NEAR PAUPERISM

Director of Research for Federal Commissioner
Declares That Conditions Here Are Little Better Than in Europe.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The second section of the summary of the report of Basil M. Manly, Director of Research and Investigation of the United States Commission on Industrial Relations, was made public today, as was the first of the "Supplemental Findings and Recommendations" by Commissioners John A. Lennan and James O'Connell.

The second section of the summary sketches evidence gathered to the effect that industrial unrest is caused by low wages, and that low wages are due to the lack of strong labor organizations. Many remedial measures are recommended, including equal suffrage, and various public utilities companies are condemned.

Commissioners Lennan and O'Connell in their findings take issue with the claim by Commissioners Aikman, Ballard and Weinstock that faults that may exist in trade unions can properly be considered among the causes of industrial unrest.

They urge strong labor organizations as a remedy, and suggest that instead of forming a new Federal Industrial Commission, with large powers to deal with industrial unrest, that the Department of Labor be developed and given larger funds for carrying on its work.

Crux of the Question.
"The crux of the question," says the Manly report, "is: have the workers received a fair share of the enormous increase in wealth which has taken place in this country during the past quarter century as a result largely of their labors? The answer is, emphatically, No!"

"The wealth of the country between 1880 and 1912 increased from $5 to $35 billions, or 138 per cent, whereas the aggregate income of wage earners in manufacturing, mining and transportation has risen between 1880 and 1909 only 95 per cent, from 256 millions in 1880 to $245 millions in 1909. Furthermore, the wage earners' share of the net product of industry in the case of manufacturing was only 40.2 per cent in 1909, as compared with 44.9 per cent in 1880."

Comparisons Not Pertinent.
"Similarly, the attempt to dismiss deplorable labor conditions in the United States by arguments that they are better than in European countries is repugnant."
"That they are, as a matter of fact, but little better is proved conclusively by the almost complete cessation of immigration from Germany, England and France. No better proof of the miserable condition of the mass of American workers can be sought than the fact that in recent years laborers in large numbers have come to this country only from Russia, Italy, Austria-Hungary and the backward and impoverished nations of Southern and Eastern Europe."

"It is evident both from the investigations of this commission and from the reports of all recent governmental bodies that a large part of our industrial population are, as a result of the combination of low wages and unemployment, living in a condition of actual poverty."

"Statistics show that only one-third of the children in our public schools complete the grammar school course, and only 10 per cent finish high school. In four industrial towns studied by the Bureau of Labor Statistics 75 per cent of the children quit school before reaching the seventh grade."

Increase of Tenancy.
"The most alarming fact in American agriculture is the rapid growth of tenancy. In 1910 there were 27 tenant-operated farms out of each 100 farms in the United States as compared with 28 in 1880, an increase of 32 per cent during 30 years. No nation-wide investigation of the condition of tenant farmers has ever been made, but in Texas, where the investigations of this commission were thorough and conclusive, it was found not only that the economic condition of the tenant was extremely bad, but also that he was far from being free, whereas his future was regarded as hopeless."

Telegraphers Underpaid.
"The workers employed by the two principal telegraph companies (the Western Union Telegraph and the Postal Telegraph-Cable) are not only underpaid, as admitted by the highest officials in their testimony before the commission, but subject to many abuses, such as denial of proper periods of relief while on duty, the establishment of arbitrary speed rates, which frequently result in overstrain, the arbitrary discharge of employees without notice for any cause or no cause, the employment of young boys for messenger service under conditions which can result only in their moral corruption, and the employment of women for telegraph service at night."

"It is suggested that the commission recommend that the property of the telegraph companies, or such part of their equipment as may be necessary for the efficient operation of a national telegraph system, should be purchased by the Federal Government after proper valuation and placed under the general jurisdiction of the Postoffice Department for operation. In transferring the service to the Federal Government all employees, including officials and other persons, necessary for successful operation, should be retained, and those whose elimination of the duplicate service of the two companies renders unnecessary for the national system, should be absorbed into other branches of the Federal service as far as practicable."

Telephone Operators.
"The condition of the telephone operators in both interstate and local service is subject to grave criticism. The wages paid even in the cities having the highest standards are insufficient to provide decently for women who have no other means of support. The requirements and nervous strain incident to the service are so very severe that experienced physicians have testified that operators should not work more than five hours per day, whereas the regular working hours are from seven to nine per day. The operators, who are principally girls and young women, are required to work at night, going to and returning from their work at hours when they are subject to grave menace."
"It is suggested that the commission recommend the purchase by the Federal Government, after proper valuation, of the property of the interstate and local telephone companies, or such part of their equipment as may be necessary for the efficient operation of a national telephone system, and the transfer of all employees, including officials, necessary for the efficient operation of the national telephone system, to the Federal service as far as possible, and the absorption as far as practicable of all employees who are not necessary for the telephone system into other branches of the Federal service."

Pullman Employees.
"The conductors and porters employed in the car service of the Pullman Co. are employed under conditions which seem to require radical readjustment. Both classes of employees are admitted by the officials of the company to be underpaid."

"The standard salary of the porters ($27.50 per month) is such that the porters are obliged to secure tips from the public in order to live. The Pullman Co. is admitted by the chairman of the board of directors to be the direct beneficiary of the tips from the public to the extent of the difference between a fair wage and that which is now paid."

"It is suggested that the commission recommend: 1. The enactment by Congress of a statute prohibiting the tipping of any employee of a public service corporation engaged in interstate commerce, and providing a proper fine for both the giver and the recipient of the tip, and the amendment of the existing law regulating the hours of service of train employees to include the employees engaged in the Pullman service."

State of Feudalism.
One of the most striking features of the report is the finding that many typical industrial communities present every aspect of a state of feudalism. The report says:

"The investigations and hearings of the commission are the basis for the following statements:
1. 'The conditions existing in typical industrial communities which are either wholly or in large part owned or controlled by a single corporation or individual employer, present every aspect of a state of feudalism except the recognition of specific duties on the part of the employer. The employees in such communities are dependent on a single corporation, or employer, for their livelihood. Furthermore, the employer in many cases controls the social and political life of such communities, either by the complete absorption of local political powers or by domination of the local authorities.'

"In some cases, as for example in Colorado, employers in such communities have assumed to usurp the functions of the Federal Government itself in the issuance of money orders, and have not only denied employees access to the post office when located in their company stores but have opened and otherwise interfered with the mail directed to the employees."

Organization the Cure.
"Experience shows that the evils complained of rapidly disappear in labor organizations as soon as the organization prevails over the opposition of the employers and establishes its right to organize. Strong unions mean decent wages, and decent wages raise decent workers to a plane of thought and action where all their acts and mental processes must no longer be directed toward a desperate struggle for the very right of themselves and families to live."

"All evidence accumulated, whether by special investigators or at public hearings, will be submitted to Congress, and we trust the people of our country will demand that it be published in full."

Peterson's Protege Will Challenge Winner of Moore; De Oro Match.

Pierre Maupome, the Mexican billiard star, expects to bring back to St. Louis one of the few world's championships ever owned here. The Mexican, who will represent this city in the Interstate Billiard League, said this morning that he expected to challenge for the three-cushion title some time during the coming fall.

will represent this city in the Interstate Billiard League, said this morning that he expected to challenge for the three-cushion title some time during the coming fall.

If Maupome is successful in taking the championship it will be the first one for this city since John Horgan lost the crown in Denver several years ago. Maupome, at present, is practicing daily to get into shape for the interstate race. He is playing better billiards today than he did in 1913, when he showed the way for all competitors in the National Three-Cushion League now the Interstate), winning something like 11 of his last dozen matches.

About 600 games will have to be played

This year broke the 100 in the Interstate League is completed. There are 14 cities with 25 players in the circuit this year. The new cities this season are Boston, New York and Brooklyn. The season is scheduled to open Sept. 20.

Slosson Expected to Play.

It is expected that George Blosson, the former balking star, will make his debut in the League, representing New York. Charles Ott will handle the cue for Brooklyn. St. Louis will have two representatives—Frank Benson and Maupome. Chicago will have the greatest representation, with four. Charles Morin, John

Moore, August Kieckhefer, who last year played for Milwaukee, and Joe Capron will represent the Windy City owners. Detroit will have three—Maley, Penn Leach and Clarence Jackson, a player who came into prominence only recently. In fact, Jackson was not looked upon as a until he defeated Alfrado de Cruz in

Charles Ellis, who last season won the title while representing Cleveland, has switched, and will compete for Pittsburg along with Charles McCourt this year. Cleveland, Milwaukee, Rochester, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Toledo are the other cities that will be represented.

ST. LOUIS TYPOS WIN
FROM 1914 CHAMPS, 2-1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—With easy Neusel pitching in great form, the St. Louis Typos yesterday eliminated Boston, last year's champion, from further play by winning the opening contest, 2-1. Neusel allowed only five hits and fanned 11. Smith, his opponent, was also in good form, allowing six bingles, but they were bunched. St. Louis scored the winning run in the fourth.

In other games Washington trounced Philadelphia, 8-2, while St. Paul defeated Cleveland, 4-1. At a meeting held last night, Indianapolis was awarded the 1910 tournament.

PRESIDENT'S COUSIN DETAINED BY IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Uncle Sam's red tape knows no stretching. This was evident today to Mrs. Joseph Johnston, cousin of President Wilson, and her husband, a fellow in Trinity College of Dublin University, when they were denied landing by immigration officials.

Officials upon their arrival aboard the Shinjo Maru until after they had submitted to medical examination. Accordingly they were taken to Angel Island. The action of the immigration officials was taken in accord with a new rule requiring all foreigners reaching here from the Orient to submit to medical examination before they can land. Johnston and his wife are touring the world under the Alfred Kahn scholarship, which Johnston won at college.

Use a face powder for your face

A general toilet or talcum powder is not suitable for use as a face powder. Talcum powder is intended to be dusted over the body, as evidence the shaker top. Such powders, although usually pure and harmless, do not have the qualities of Henry Tetlow's Gossamer or other high grade face powders.

Talcum powders, being intended for use on concealed portions of the body, are not given the ingredients of a special face powder, nor are they ground so fine. They lack the soft "velvetness," the delicate translucency, and the skin-nourishing properties of a real face powder.

HENRY TETLOW'S GOSSAMER

is soft and "feathery." It contains ingredients that actually soften and nourish the skin, while talcum powder is simply neutral and inert. Henry Tetlow's Gossamer is translucent, allowing the natural color of the skin to show through. It never rubs shiny.

The woman who uses talcum as a face powder for either convenience or economy does so at the expense of her appearance and of her complexion.

If you could see how Henry Tetlow's Gossamer is made and what it is made of, you would at once appreciate that there is no comparison between it and talcum powders.

The superiority of Henry Tetlow's Gossamer was positively established in 1876, when the judges of the Centennial Exposition awarded highest honors to the Henry Tetlow preparations, stating "that for purity of material, naturalness of effect and harmlessness to the skin, they are superior to any exhibited by the world."

Today, Henry Tetlow's Face Powder is widely used in Europe in preference to French powders. It is composed of the finest imported and domestic materials, scented with a rare perfume that is genuine, and therefore expensive, and made by the most thorough and conscientious method.

Henry Tetlow's Gossamer is made in White, Peach, Pink, Cream and Brandy tints. Sold by leading druggists. Trial portion, for comparison with talcum or other powders, free upon request to your druggist or to us.

Today's Beauty Aids

To clear up and whiten the skin and secure that charm of pink and white youthful freshness so much desired by all women you will find it far safer to rely upon a good face lotion rather than powder. To get rid of that shiny and muddy appearance in your complexion, dissolve four ounces of aprunax in one-half pint hot water, and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply this to your face, neck and arms, rubbing gently until dry. This lotion does not show or rub off like powder and is much better. It is splendid for removing tan, freckles, pimples and sallowness.

You can make a delightful shampoo for a very trifling cost if you get from your druggist a package of caustic and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure—ADV.

Embrassing Hairs Can Be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture) Embrassing hairs can be quickly removed from the skin by this quick, painless method. Mix into one quart of water, one ounce of salicylic acid and one ounce of glycerine. Apply to the skin and it will be removed. It is a most effective and safe method. No need of a beautician. It is an ideal method.

U. S. SOON TO HAVE 12-INCH HOWITZER SIEGE BATTERIES

Rush Order Given for Three Big Guns, With Motor Tractors, for First Unit.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The United States army, for the first time, is soon to possess a siege battery of 12-inch howitzers, comparable to the German heavy artillery, with motor tractors able to transport them over the roughest roads.

It was learned at the navy yard today that a rush order had been received to convert three 12-inch naval guns into howitzers by sawing off their muzzles and mounting them on movable carriages. It is understood these guns will form only the first of a large number of heavy batteries of the type. With the guns will be manufactured tractors with wheels 18 inches wide to haul them over any roads.

Hitherto the heaviest gun in use in the United States army has been a six-inch mortar and there are not many of these in use. The 12-inch gun, army officers believe, is the heaviest that could be used to advantage under conditions that obtain in this country.

The famous German 42-centimeter, though of tremendous power, are too ponderous to be moved easily for great distances over poor roads.

DIES WITHOUT TELLING WHY SHE BURNED BABY TO DEATH

Mrs. Helen Runge, Who Set Fire to Her Child, Dies, Refuses to Explain Her Action.

Mrs. Helen Runge, 35 years old, of 8333 Bamberger avenue, died at the city hospital at 2:45 a. m. today without explaining why she burned her 5-month-old boy, Victor, to death in a dump of weeds at Gravois avenue and Bates street yesterday, after saturating her own clothing and the child's with alcohol.

Though herself severely burned, she remained conscious almost to the time of her death, but only reply to all questions was "the baby wouldn't grow."

Mrs. Runge's husband, Herman Runge, a building contractor, said his wife had hoped to have a daughter and seemed greatly disappointed because all of her three children were boys.

While Runge was away from home yesterday Mrs. Runge took her baby to Gravois avenue and Bates street, more than a mile from her home. Passersby heard screams and saw flames in a dump of weeds. They found Mrs. Runge and the child with their clothing ablaze. A bottle which contained alcohol lay near them. When the flames were extinguished the baby was dead.

In a collar box at the Runge home, policemen found this note, written by Mrs. Runge:

"Dear husband and all the folks: Forgive me the crime. I am (here several words were erased). God has wronged me in this world. Take care of the children."

Mrs. Runge's older children, Willie, 8 years old, and Werner, 3, are being cared for by relatives.

By Associated Press. BRITISH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 2.—"We are in sight of the trenches at last," said a private in what is known as the Stock Exchange Battalion of one of the regiments of the new British army. "It's been a long pull in a hard market. But we never missed getting our shilling a day and our wives have got their separation allowances regularly."

There are private in the Stock Exchange Battalion who have names well-known in the world of finance. Some of them have subscribed fortunes to the latest war loan.

"At home I have three bathrooms in my house and 18 bedrooms," said one. "Out here I am glad to stand up in line with a towel over my shoulder and take my turn with the wash basin. As for sleeping on straw in a barn it is paradise after a hard march. I suppose we will get those other things, too, like everybody else does in the trenches."

"Bound to, though you have 10,000 a year," remarked another. "Maybe you have one in your shirt now."

"What interests us," said a divisional staff officer, "is not that they are Stock Exchange men, but are they good soldiers?"

Many speak German, as a result of international financial relations. "It would be odd," said one, "if I should be shooting at Kauffmann, who is on the Berlin Exchange. We went to school together in Germany."

Not all in the Stock Exchange Battalion are efficient or members of the exchange but all were recruited from the Stock Exchange district. As they march along a road in France, laden with dust, the 35 a week clerk and the big broker are elbow to elbow and the observer cannot tell one from the other.

There is another battalion composed of artists, architects, musicians and men of kindred callings. Many officers have been promoted both from the ranks of Artists' Rifles and the Stock Exchange battalion. Then there are battalions of pinners, sportsmen and companies from the same factory and groups of friends who enlisted in a body in order to be together during the campaign.

Officers who have been in the fighting since the retreat from Mons are saying that the new army is changing the whole face of life at the front.

Strangers to the Regulars.
"We regulars all knew one another," one explained. "We were a sort of family. When an officer was killed, if he were not an old pal, at least you knew who he was. The names on the casualty lists of the new army will be those of strangers."

Promotion has been rapid. Boys of 19 who began as Second Lieutenants in the new army are now First Lieutenants. There are Captains who are scarcely of age. One officer meets another who was a Major when he last saw him and finds that he is now a Brigadier-General.

Seeing a sign of a corps headquarters painted so well that it looked as if it had been carved into the wood, a passerby knew at once that it was the work of a new army man who was a professional sign painter. He is a lawyer, a plumber, a bookkeeper, a carpenter, a tailor or an engineer that is wanted, one is always forthcoming from the ranks of the new army. The British regular, as a rule, knew only the trade of soldiering.

FINDS SON BY ADVERTISING
HE IS HEIR TO "BIG ESTATE"

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.—Frequent dreams that her boy, who was taken from her while she was ill in the General Hospital in 1906, was not dead, caused Mrs. A. E. Evans of this city to continue a search for him during the last 15 years. Advertising brought no results until recently, when she stated in an advertisement that a big estate was coming to the son, Harry Gordon, from her father. Then a woman came to see Mrs. Evans and told her that while she was an attendant at an orphan boy's home in 1906, Harry Gordon was sent to live with Thomas R. Cain, a farmer near Jacksonville, Ill. A letter to the Chief of Police here brought a communication from Cain that Harry always had believed his mother to be dead, but if Mrs. Evans was his mother Harry would be sent to Kansas City at once.

Then Mrs. Evans announced that the supposed estate was a myth. "I advertised that there was an estate merely to see if I could not get results—and I did," she said. "I simply want to see Harry."

TWO BOYS ADMIT ROBBING CAR

Aloysius Nagle, 18 years old, of 629 Penrose street, and Charles Brockmann, 17, of 2656 Davidson avenue, attracted so much attention from the juvenile visitors at a street fair at Lillian and Arlington avenues last night that an inquisitive policeman sought an explanation. Several small boys told the policeman that Nagle and Brockmann had returned from a long journey wearing new shoes which, they said, they had obtained without cost. The policeman interviewed the pair.

The youths admitted that while beating their way from Dwight to Bloomington, Ill., they had robbed a C. & A. box car and that, in addition to the shoes they were wearing, they had stolen two other pairs, which they had given to Bruno Brockmann, a brother of Charles, and Sidney Kelly of 228 Genevieve avenue. The Brockmann boys and Kelly were arrested.

CITY INVITED BY BUSINESS MEN TO MILK FUND PICNIC

West End Merchants Expect Outing Today at Delmar Garden to Be Best They Have Had.

"The West End Business Men's Association desires to have the entire city of St. Louis as its guest at Delmar Garden this afternoon and evening," Dr. B. W. Clarke, president of that body of 1600 substantial business men, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today. "We would be delighted if the citizens and visitors decided as of one mind to make it another play-day, and on a greater and grander scale than they did on municipal play-day a few weeks ago. I believe we can show them a better time today than they had before. Certainly we have the advantage in a free barbecue, and then there are facilities for enjoyable diversions in Delmar that were entirely lacking on the other day of rest and pleasure-seeking."

The association has gone to great lengths to get the city together for an outing today, through distribution of 35,000 tickets to its own members for use of their immediate friends, and the coupons published in the Post-Dispatch. The purpose of the men composing the body is to give their spirit of hospitality full play on the occasion of their twentieth annual picnic, and also to inaugurate a movement that will eventuate in bringing the city into a more or less compact union for all civic endeavor. They believe, as Dr. Clarke voiced it, that "St. Louis has never given itself a chance to show just what great things it is capable of accomplishing, because the people have never pulled together and with the compelling type of enthusiasm and determination."

But it is not alone the spirit of pleas-has heavily marked the season. Carnivals, bazars, lawn festivals, lemonade stands and other devices for raising money are being utilized in numbers, and the result shows in the steady climbing of the aggregate flowing to the Post-Dispatch. There is manifest a purpose to accomplish as much as possible prior to the opening of the schools two weeks from today, and the consequent lessening of time to be given the relief of the babies. The benefit entertainment at the Penrose Garden, Grand avenue and Penrose street, Saturday evening, in which 11 girls and boys were the principals, with three girls aiding as ushers, yielded $11 for the fund. There were special moving pictures provided by the Garden management, and the children added pleasure through several admirably rendered vocal numbers, solos and con-ure derived from putting business cares aside for a day that the association members have been planning and working for weeks on details of today's outing and "getting together." They were mindful of the fact that there are hundreds of men, women and children who are in distress from lack of employment, the result of conditions which they could not control.

For the infants in these homes, oppressed by and in peril from gripping poverty, they arranged a line of benefit affairs from which substantial results are promised. These efforts are directed toward the cause in which the Post-Dispatch and the girls and boys of St. Louis have been exerting themselves for years, through the medium of the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. They are desirous of contributing in volume to the fund devoted to saving the babies.

Co-operation along broad lines was cheerfully forthcoming from every quarter. An impressive program of entertainment was easily organized, including moving pictures, vocal and orchestral music were freely provided. This feature will be presented in the Garden Theater after the dinner complimentary to Gov. Major and Mayor Kiel. Following this there is to be an auction of donations on a liberal scale by the wholesale and retail merchants of the city, conducted by Alexander Belkirk, and all without charge.

Free Admission to Garden. Appended are the coupons which, cut from the Post-Dispatch, will obtain for the holder free admission to the garden and the barbecue, and the various concessions, the latter for children only, up to 8 p. m.:

"Fifty and Fifty"

The story of a young man rich in love and ambition who turned his hand to hard labor and won wealth and a wife.

By Florence Lillian Henderson.

"I AM glad of it!" spoke Harley Blake, and he looked as if in dead earnest and relieved.

He was seated before the cold and empty fireplace of his cheerless room. He made a faint glow of heat and warmth, however, by striking a match and lighting the letter he had just received and read. He dropped it to the hearth and watched it curl up into fragile sheets of black and then at a breath go crumbling into fragments.

"The last bridge burned," he mused, trying to smile half-humorously, but the situation was too serious. "I have exhausted my friends and relatives. The former gave me profuse promises of influence and help and failed me. My father's own brother writes me a homily on independence and thrift, and would not even risk giving me a recommendation of capability and honesty. That letter is the last straw that breaks the camel's back. Good-by to the old life for good!"

But there Harley hesitated mentally. He was poor in pocket, thought and expectancy, but love is rich, and he loved Helen Wendell. They had been more than friendly, but that was before she had gone away on a long trip to the Panama Canal with her scientific father—before Harley had tried to make his way in life in a practical way, and had failed.

He had not heard from her since. When poverty and lack of work had fastened their disheartening grip upon him, he had cut loose forever from the social circle in which Miss Wendell moved. He had not even heard if she had returned.

Strikingly, however, he recalled a certain discussion he had held with Helen. It had verged upon love, but masked as friendship. She had voiced her sentiments that when two of the opposite sex were mutually drawn one to the other, it should lead to all sacrifice of wealth and woe, but they should be true.

"I would cling to a man to the last who, esteeming me, offered me the humblest life. If love, respect and real endeavor lay behind it all." "Some day, when I have become an expert harvest hand or a plodding miner, I may write to remind you of those words," Harley had spoken laughingly, and she, in earnest, had said: "It may bring a response," and had smiled, too, but with a tender light in her eyes he loved to remember.

Harley Seeks Work.

A GREAT uncle, that of mine!" many a time Harley had reflected, somewhat bitterly. "He insists on four years of a college agricultural course, and then tells me to follow medicine, or some other respectable profession. Why didn't he give me a farm?"

But now, cutting loose from all the past life, no prospects of work, no money in his pocket, Harley packed his best clothes in a suit case, bade his landlady good-by and proceeded to the street. There was a grim uncomely promise glitter in his eye as he proceeded to a secondhand clothing store. When he came out of it Harley was arrayed in a coarse common working suit and had a few dollars in cash as a result of a sale of his few belongings.

His next step was at a laborer's employment bureau. Its proprietor started at this white-handed, refined-faced applicant who indifferently announced that track work, mining, farm work, in fact any line of manual employment would be acceptable.

Harley was required to pay a fee of

Smart Suit for Matron

THE features of this costume are a circular skirt and hip-length coat, fastening high up the throat, and finishing with a snug collar of beaver skin. Self buttons casten coat at top, and waistline, which features trimmed effect with decided flare from waistline to hem. Felt turban, with velvet ribbon, and trim, smart button shoes are notable accessories.

Then he was given a card. It read: "Superintendent of Construction, Allegheny, Pa." He was handed a bit of paste-board.

"That is a pass to your destination," advised the agency. "When you arrive there apply for grading work—$1.75 a day and board."

"That sounds tangible!" nodded Harley gratefully, and took his departure. "It's work," he murmured with himself. "It will keep me from becoming a pauper—and it will make me forget!" But adverse fortune seemed to pursue the victim it had kept tramping the streets for several weeks looking for the position he never found.

He arrived at Allegheny to find work at a standstill and the railroad in the hands of a receiver. Some 200 workmen had dispersed, or were dispersing about the immediate vicinity. The farmers in the district were hilarious over this vast influx of labor, for they needed workers in the fields, and under the exigencies of the occasion were able to bargain at their own figures.

A Job at Last.

HARLEY was quite glad of the new prospect opened. He preferred the farm work. Then came a new disappointment. The railroad laborers had two days' start of him. The labor market was glutted. Every place at plow and harrow was filled.

"Oh, well, I shall have to strike out for a new field, that is all," he told himself grudgingly, for to fail he was imbued with the optimism of an enthusiastic ambition.

Harley tramped it, brave as a Trojan, for two days. On the morning of the third he met his first bit of encouragement. He had come upon a desolate, starved-looking farm, and hailed its equally dismal owner watering lean, disconsolate cattle. The man himself was grim-faced and dispirited in mien and talk.

"I might give you board and lodging

The Magic Medicine

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

WILLIAM was an only child, and his mother had so badly spoiled him from babyhood that when he was 10 years old he was a great, lazy, ill-tempered and selfish boy. He would not even have his poor, tired mother bring his breakfast to him. Then he would loaf around the house all day, saying he was too sick to go to school.

This distressed his poor mother very much, but she was too devoted to William to realize the real cause of his bad feelings.

William had an uncle who was a noted physician, and his mother begged that he would come and see her sick boy. Now, this uncle was not only a fine physician, but a wise and sensible man. As soon as he saw William, he knew what the real trouble was, but he also knew that the boy was too spoiled to obey any instructions he might give him if they were at all disagreeable to follow. After long thought, he said to both William and his mother:

"The boy is very, very sick, and all my skill can do nothing for such a case. But there is living in my city a doctor who works the most marvelous cures by magic. I will send him here to William."

THE uncle departed, and a few days later there appeared a man dressed in flowing robes, covered with figures of stars and moons and strange animals. He carried a long staff, and had a snow-white beard that reached to his knees.

"I am sent to see your son," he said to the mother, and was shown in, where William was lying sulkily on a lounge.

"I need only one glance at him to tell you that if he does not follow my instructions he will be ruined for life," said the strange doctor. "I can cure him by magic, not by medicine." Then he uttered some strange, unintelligible words, and then said:

"Now listen carefully, William, and obey my instructions to the letter. It is now the season for cherries. Arise every morning exactly at the rising of the sun. Walk rapidly 2000 steps away from your house. Then, from the nearest cherry tree you can find, pick 500 cherries. Bring these home and remove the seeds from each one. When you reach the 500th cherry, do not remove the seed, but swallow it whole. Then wave your arms above your head and rise on your toes 100 times, saying each time, 'Abracadabra.' At noon repeat the whole, just as you did in the morning, and again at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, omitting not a single thing. After the cherries are gone, blackberries will be ripe, and you must continue the same with them as with the cherries. When the blackberries are gone, you must use peaches, and then apples, but of these you need only pluck 50. That is all; if you follow my instructions you will be cured."

WILLIAM, who was pleased with the idea of having magic worked upon him, was up at sunrise the next morning, and followed out the instructions. He grew very tired before he was through, but he stuck manfully to it. For he was a boy with a good character at bottom. At noon he followed the same course, and again in the evening. That night he was so tired he slept through the night without turning over.

Next morning he was very sore, but he went through the course laid down, and so on day after day. After a few days the soreness left him, and he found he began to enjoy bounding out of bed and walking forth into the fresh morning air. His appetite grew enormously, and he ceased to complain about his food. His muscles began to harden, and soon he found himself joining the boys on the playground.

All through the cherry and blackberry and peach season and far into the apple time he kept it up, doing it now for the pure enjoyment of it.

IN the fall his uncle paid them a visit.

"Oh, uncle," exclaimed William, as he ran to meet him. "See what that doctor's magic has done for me; just feel this arm! And I'm captain of our baseball nine and head of my class at school, too!"

The uncle opened his valise and drew forth a long robe, covered with moons and strange animals; also, a long, white beard.

Brace up that lagging appetite.

Talks With My Parents

By a Child

On Boosting Your Relatives.

MY object in writing these talks is to put them in a book so that parents may see just how a child feels about the things I discuss. One of the first stories I want to use is about "knocking."

I hate slang, and yet that is so expressive! By knocking I mean not standing up for a person. It is pretty hard to believe that a woman would knock her own husband, but it is true. For I heard mother knocking father to the ground the other afternoon. Miss Esterbrook is what father calls "a trouble maker." He always says to mother, "You know women never MEAN to make trouble." Well, I was on the sofa in the sitting room and I guess mother had forgotten I was there. She and Miss Esterbrook were jabbering away as fast as could be when I heard mother say, "My husband gives me very little spending money." Then a voice said, "Yes, I always heard your husband was stingy in matters like that."

"What do you mean?" fairly shouted mother.

I thought there was going to be a fight, so I fell off the sofa and when mother saw me she looked awful cheap.

"I had a bad dream," I said. That seemed to break up the meeting and Miss Esterbrook left.

I believe in boosting your relatives, especially if you are married to them.

Rebel General Tells Him That Bobo Is Favored by the Natives.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An attempt to circumvent the trouble in Northern waters, which has caused the Navy Department to order 250 more marines to "southern waters," was reported today by Admiral Caperton, who told of an interview he had with Gen. Morenci, one of Gen. Bobo's adherents near Cape Hatteras, where most of the revolutionists are gathered. The interview was without definite result, but left "room for further discussion," the Admiral stated.

Gen. Morenci told the Admiral that virtually all the natives in the north were ready to support Gen. Bobo and refused to recognize President-elect Darriguenava.

It was announced that the armored cruiser Tennessee, with further equipment, would be ready by Thursday to start for "southern waters."

PRISON WARDEN TO LOSE PROFITS FROM COMMISSARY

Director of Public Welfare Tokacz yesterday said he would impose a new rule forbidding the jail authorities to operate a commissary for private profit.

irely new rules when Walker takes charge, using as a model the rules promulgated at the workhouse by Supt. Primavesi. Soft speech on the part of guards and prisoners will be another reform step. No profane language may a future be used by a guard in the presence of prisoners, and prisoners who abuse the rule will be placed in solitary confinement on a bread and water diet until they promise to reform.

Director Tolkaacz said he would not boilish the commissary at which prisoners are permitted to purchase pie, tobacco, stationery, fresh fruits, magazines, books and newspapers. He will permit the sale of proper articles to prisoners, but will not allow the War-

en or his deputies to make a profit out of the sale. Director Tolkmach said he did not know on what basis the present jail commissary is operated, but the workhouse plan is to turn the profits into a fund for the purchase of pic-

James N. Moore of 123 Camp street, Louisville, handed to a soldier in St. Louis on the levee, just before he jumped into the Mississippi River at the foot of Clark avenue, Aug. 3, and drowned himself, started such a big row among Moore's relatives in Louisville that identified the body. He asked Chief Young, to whom the soldier delivered the policy, to turn it over to him, but under no circumstances to give it to his wife, Susan Elmora. A few days later Chief Young received a letter from

rs. Elmore asking for the policy, and requesting him not to deliver it to Elmore's father or brother, as they had refused to recognize her rights. About the same time a letter was received from John Elmore of Thirty-seventh and streets, Louisville, the father, making demand for the policy, and also instructing Chief Young not to deliver it to the woman claiming to be the widow. Mrs. Elmore was named as beneficiary of the policy. She has a daughter.

Grain Crop of the World Is Forecast for Last Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Last year's harvest of cereals than last year's forecast for the world's principal producing countries by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, which reported by cable that the world's grain crop for 1934 is estimated to be 1,340,000,000 bushels.

Wheat—Rye production in Canada, Ireland, Italy, European Russia, and the United States for this year aggregates 1,599,000,000 bushels, an increase of 10 per cent over 1933. Area production for 1934 is estimated at 1,600,000,000 bushels. Wheat production in the United States and Canada aggregates 2,648,000,000 bushels, an increase of 10 per cent over 1933.

Wheat production in the 10 countries of the world aggregates 1,340,000,000 bushels, an increase of 17.9 per cent over 1933.

Wheat covered an irregular range today, rising sharply on reports of frost damage to spring wheat, then practically nothing but attending to telegrams received from their agents and for shipping and marketing.

The Grain Growers' Association has sold all it could get, and the International Institute of Agriculture has an office to start shipping twine from Chicago.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat decreased 90,000 bu for three days.

Local receipts were 50,000 bu; corn, 2000 bu; oats, 4000 bu. Total wheat and flour, 55,000 bu.

Total primary wheat receipts were 1,340,000,000 bushels, an increase of 17.9 per cent over 1933.

dropping fractionally during the week. Uncertain domestic and export outlook. Later prices declined rather violently over ice. A heavy rain fell on the coast and was fractionally under the preceding day's figures. Corn and oats finished steady. Wheat was a shade lower, but temperatures but later lost the advance when wheat broke. Oats were irregular.

The Liverpool cable said: "Weakness in America affected a decline in the London market. The wheat market undertone was easy, but later prices hardened with offers light. Spot prices were 10s 10d to 10s 11d for Caraco market irregular with Santos tobacco and winters 14d to 5d down, but the market was not much lower, higher, with absolutely nothing of offering. The exchange situation has improved and the demand is strengthening. Corn was weak with large Plate arrivals of good quality, weak nearness to the coast.

Milling and Grain News: "Further heavy rains in the Central West and South West may delay the harvest and movement of winter wheat."

St. Louis Cash Grain.

Cash wheat was irregularly lower, except in No. 2 red demand slow.

Cash corn 4c lower and steady.

The Jarr Family

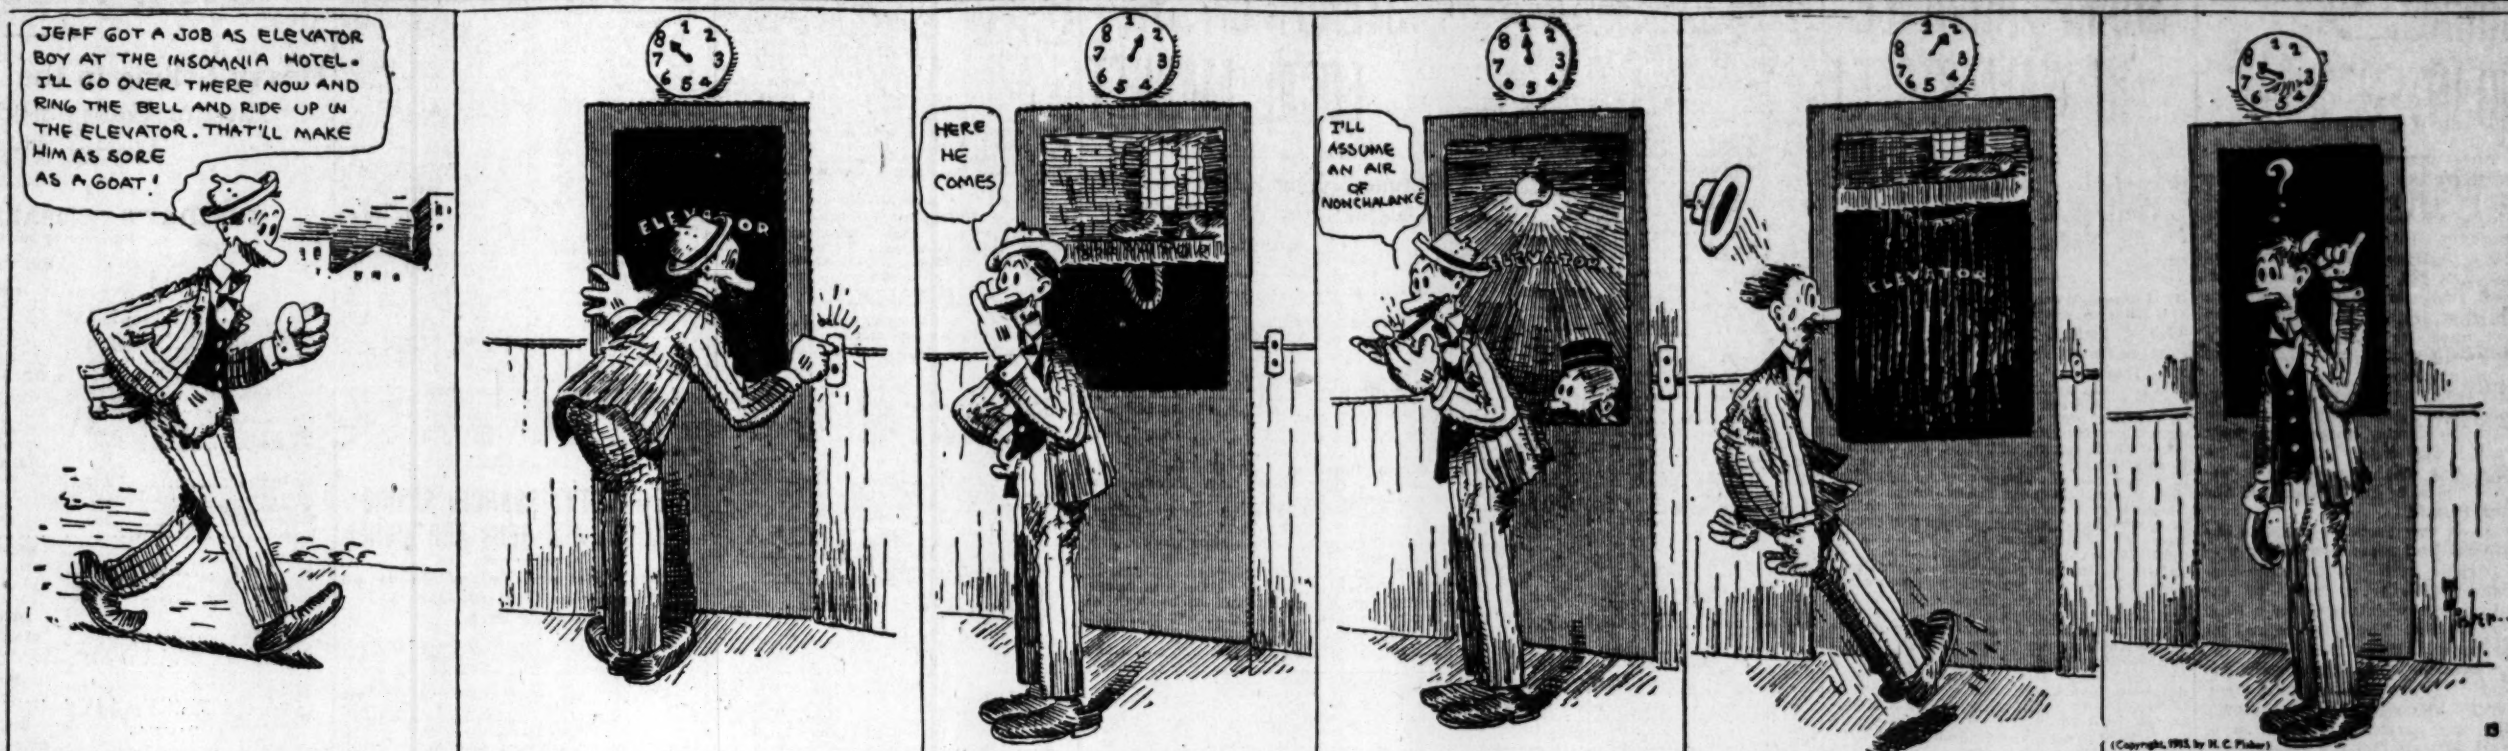

By ROY L. MCCARDELL

"W HOM do you think I met today?" asked Mrs. Jarr, and without waiting for an answer continued, "The Buffingtons! They're going to the mountains." Mr. Jarr did not appear to be at all interested in the information. "I think you might answer a person when she speaks to you," said Mrs. Jarr, with a shade of irascibility in her voice. "What should I have said?" replied Mr. Jarr. "I don't know the Buffingtons." "You know them well enough, if you'd admit it," replied Mrs. Jarr. "Don't you remember when they lived in the next flat to us and we thought they got along so nicely together and were such quiet people? His mother lived with them then." "If his mother or her mother lived with them they did not get along nicely together, no matter how quiet they were," said Mr. Jarr. "I don't like to hear you speak that way," said Mrs. Jarr. "You can't say that my mother ever made any trouble between us. When she was told we were engaged, she cried bitterly. And she afterward said she didn't think it for the best, especially as Mr. Dingling, the young man who was doing so well as a builder at the time, was paying me such marked attention." "Thou couldst have been the young builder's bride then, but the deceiver came and blighted thy fair young life?" asked Mr. Jarr. "Yes, and you needn't sneer at Mr. Dingling, either," said Mrs. Jarr. "Mamma's always said he would make a very good husband, he was always so quiet. But I wouldn't listen." "Listen to woe or mother?" inquired Mr. Jarr. "You needn't be sarcastic," said Mrs. Jarr. "I notice you do not take me everywhere with you, as Mr. Buffington does his wife." "You can come along, old girl, if you want to, but it's dull at the office these days," said Mr. Jarr. "Oh, well, it doesn't matter," said Mrs. Jarr. "I wouldn't be guided by those Buffingtons, anyway. There's always something suspicious about a couple who are always together like that. Everybody knows he drinks terribly every chance he gets, and she flirts outrageously, and he knows it." "So he watches her and she watches him?" asked Mr. Jarr. "Of course," replied Mrs. Jarr. "Everybody knows that. Neither trusts the other; you'll generally find that those people who are always together that way are bound more by distrust than love." "Correct you are," said Mr. Jarr, "and as I don't need any watching, being a steady old Dobbin, you will not mind if I go out and drop into Gus' a bit!"
